Williamsport Sets Hearing On Zoning

A comprehensive zoning plan for the Village of Williamsport, discussed by village council members Monday, will be presented to residents at a public hearing.

The hearing is scheduled 7:30 p.m. Monday, Nov. 10, at the Williamsport Legion Hall.

The village currently operates without a zoning plan.

The written text of the plan and a map were presented to council by the Planning and Zoning Commission, chaired by Mrs. Bill Horch.

Both the text and the map are on display at the Williamsport First National Bank.

The plan must be read three times in village council before it may be adopted.

In other village business, councilmen voted to enter into a mutual aid agreement with Muhlenberg Twp. for fire protection.

Councilmen also hired Willard Finnigan as an auxiliary deputy to replace Arnold Peters, whose resignation was accepted.

Chief of Police in the village is Patrick Dawson.

President pro temp of council Robert Metzger presided over the Monday session in place of Mayor Paul Long.

The next council meeting is scheduled for Monday, Nov. 3, at 7 p.m. at the Pavillion.

Ford Rejects Highway Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford, having urged a new tax-cut plan tied to curbs in federal spending, rejected a Republican governor's request for more federal funds and gave him a blunt lecture on balanced budgets.

Ford, who announced plans earlier this week for what he said was "the biggest single tax cut in our history," met Tuesday with seven Appalachian state governors in Knoxville, Tenn., and immediately was confronted with a plea for funds.

West Virginia Gov. Arch Moore told Ford more federal money is needed to keep Appalachian highway projects on schedule. Ford wryly recalled that most of the governors in the room had agreed with a Southern Governors Conference resolution calling for a constitutional amendment requiring balanced federal budgets.

Ford said, "Fellows, we can't have it both ways."

He said the government faces federal deficits in the current fiscal year of up to $70 million, adding, "If you have back-to-back deficits of $70 billion, you're going to have more and more and more troubles in trying to finance your own state and municipal governments."

As the President was touting his new tax cut and spending curb proposal, his proposal was meeting with dour comments from Congress.

House Ways and Means Committee Chairman Al Ullman, D-Ore., called Ford's plan "an impossible one."

A Ways and Means subcommittee chairman, Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio, criticized Ford's proposals to reduce corporate taxes and released figures showing that 142 major corporations paid less than half the standard corporate tax rate of 48 per cent last year. Vanik said eight companies paid no taxes while 18 others paid at a rate of 10 per cent or less.

Ford proposed enactment of $28 million in permanent tax cuts for 1976 if Congress will agree to an identical cut in federal spending. He would require establishment of a $395 billion spending ceiling for the fiscal year beginning next Oct. 1.

Under Ford's $28-billion taxcut plan, individual taxpayers would receive about $2.6 billion more in tax reductions in 1976 than they did in 1975. White House tax tables show that if the plan is enacted, a family of four with an income of $15,000 would pay $287 less in 1976 taxes than it will this year. A family of four with a $20,000 income would pay $310 less in 1976 than in 1975.

The tables show that a single person with a $10,000 income would pay $249 less and a single person earning $20,000 would pay $264 less.

Ullman's committee began work Tuesday on an assortment of bills to revise tax laws, including the Ford plan. Of Ford's demand for a spending ceiling, Ullman asked, "If the President wants a $395-billion budget, why doesn't he submit a $395 billion budget?"

Treasury Secretary William E. Simon, appearing before the House panel to explain the Ford proposal, was asked by Ullman, "Are you sitting there with a straight face and saying that Congress can be expected to put a ceiling on a budget it hasn't seen, without knowing what priorities would be set — to blindly strike out with no information on the budget ... and put a tax cut in place by January?"

Ullman called such a proposal "totally preposterous," adding, "I must say I am rather shocked that the administration would propose such a thing."

Simon argued that Congress could pledge itself to meet the ceiling, leaving details to be worked out later. He stressed that Ford is ready to veto any tax reduction plan not accompanied by a spending ceiling.

Rep. Robert H. Michel, R-Ill., said Ford had told GOP leaders that "if he has to veto 100 bills to hold down spending, he'll do it."

Ullman's criticism won the support of Speaker Carl Albert, D-Okla., who said imposing a spending ceiling before seeing the President's budget "is like tying infinity to zero — you get nothing."

Meanwhile, in a speech on the House floor, Vanik said the 142 companies had an aggregate income of $46 billion, but were able to reduce their tax liabilities "through entirely legal means."

Vanik listed the eight companies he said paid no 1974 income taxes and their 1974 adjusted net incomes as Ford Motor Co., $351.9 million; Lockheed Aircraft Corp., $29.8 million; Honeywell, $98.8 million; U.S. Industries, Inc., $17.9 million; American Airlines, $26.7 million; Eastern Airlines, $17.6 million; American Electric Power Co., $163.7 million; and Allstate Insurance Co. and susidiaries, $137.3 million.

Companies which Vanik said paid at an effective rate of 10 per cent or less included Consolidated Edison; LTV Corp.; Occidental Petroleum Corp.; Chase Manhattan Corp.; Texaco, Inc.; Continental-Illinois Corp.; Bankers Trust New York Corp.; Northwest Airlines, Inc.; Mobil Oil Corp.; Texas Gulf; Pennzoil Co.; American Metal Climax, Inc.; American Motors Corp.; UAL, Inc.; Delta Airlines, Inc.; McDonnell Douglas Corp.; Bank America Corp.; and Commonwealth Edison.

Pumpkins, Show And Tower, Receive Council Approval

By DAVE AMEY
Herald City Editor

Pumpkins, both the variety found in the fall festival of the same name and a new species designed to furnish the city with an above-ground water supply, were discussed by Circleville Council Tuesday night.

Council, meeting in regular session, unanimously okayed a resolution authorizing Pumpkin Show, Inc., to stage the annual festival on city streets Oct. 15 through 18.

They also passed three ordinances to fund the proposed Pumpkin-like elevated water storage tank in the city's southend.

Construction is expected to begin in 30 days and be completed in about a year.

Universal Tank and Iron Works, Inc., of Indianapolis, Ind., will construct the tank for the bid price of $662,590.

Universal, and two other bidders, Chicago Bridge and Iron Co., Shaker Heights, and Pittsburg-Des Moines Steel Co., Pittsburgh, were all under the construction estimate, according to Charles Taylor, Director of Public Utilities.

The principal funding ordinance, which would issue municipal bonds to finance $470,000 of the project, met with little discussion by council members, who felt that revenue generated within the water department would be sufficient to negate levying an additional tax.

As far as the Pumpkin Show is concerned, Chief of Police Bob Temple, Fire Chief Mike Brown, and Service Director Atwood Jones noted that their departments were prepared for the expected huge throng of visitors.

Chief Temple, who noted that his department will have special officers on assignment from Chillicothe, told council that trains have been ordered to procede slowly through town during the show.

And Brown, saying that it will create some overtime pay, noted that he will staff Station 2, the alternate fire station his department shares with the Emergency Medical Team.

Chief Brown plans to station three men and a pumper truck at Station 2 from noon to midnight Wednesday through Saturday of the show and leave four men and other equipment at the regular fire house. The move is designed to insure that all areas of the city will be covered in the event of a fire.

The police department will be receiving a new vehicle, but it may not be the questioned Chevrolet Monte Carlo that was confiscated in an arrest last month.

Council authorized the department to advertise for bids for a 1976 uniform marked police cruiser, using the 1973 Dodge cruiser as a trade-in.

The old cruiser has over 80,000 miles of service, Chief Temple said.

However, an ordinance that would give the city use of the 1974 Chevrolet, for the lien price of $2,350, was held to third reading.

Chief Temple told councilmen that he would use the vehicle for serveillance or as a car for the chief or captain of police, but could not convert it to marked car use because it has only two doors.

Council authorized an additional contract with the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. to install three additional street lights on Franklin St.

Two of the lights will be erected on E. Franklin and third on the west side.

After a public hearing, council ordered two half-acre tracts of land in the north end rezoned from single-family residences to Apartment-Residence-Office.

Columbus Production Credit Assn., located at 1154 N. Court St., asked for the rezoning measure so they can proceed with plans to construct a 4,000 square foot building just north of Wilson Ave.

Council also okayed an ordinance that transferred funds internally within the Service Department, transferred $500 for maintenance of fire department vehicles, and transferred $1,500 for supplies of the Municipal Court.

Juvenile Crime Biggest Problem For Teen-Age Chief

BUNNELL, Fla. (AP) — Police Chief Donald Brock says he's ordering an immediate crackdown on this eastern coastal community's No. 1 crime problem — juvenile delinquency. And Brock should know as much as anyone about solving the problem. He's a teen-ager himself.

"The biggest problem we're facing is keeping the juvenile crime rate down," says the 19-year-old police chief. "There is no organized recreation for teen-agers in this city or county. And with nothing else to do, the kids turn to crime."

Brock, a graduate of Bunnell High School and a veteran of 400 hours of police training at Daytona Beach Community College, served as acting police chief of the six-member force in this town of 1,500 for six weeks after the former chief resigned.

The five-member Bunnell Council voted unanimously Monday night to make Brock permanent police chief.

"I'll stay as long as I'm able, physically and mentally. It's an accomplishment for the 18-to 19-year-old group, and they need the encouragement," Brock said Tuesday.

He said reaction to his appointment has ranged from indifference to enthusiasm.

"Nobody's balked. As long as I do my share and live up to my part of the deal, I don't expect they will," he said.

"We're a small town, but we have the same problems as any town. We need the support of the people and the kids' attention, which we haven't been getting.

"The only thing we can do is start working with the kids, but the law can't do it alone. As long as we work together, we won't have any problems."

Brock, a bridegroom of 10 months, said he has "always wanted to be a policeman."

Senator Taft's
Staff
Here Today
To Serve You

RED-TAPE CUTTERS—Reed H. Boatright and Jackie Farmer, special assistants to U.S. Senator Robert Taft Jr., brought their ombudsman-type services to Circleville Tuesday, the first time they've tried their on-the-street problem-solving attack. Boatright explained that Taft's official office, at 121 E. State St. Columbus, must service a 42-county area. "We realize that people in non-metropolitan areas don't have easy access to our services, so we are trying to bring our services here," he said. Circleville will actually be a test area, he said, pointing out that he will hit four or five other counts seats to determine if the program is successful. Taft's assistants are primarily interested in dealing with persons who have problems with the federal government.

Ford Not Doing Well On Vetoes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford, defeated in his battle with Congress over child nutritional programs, is having a higher percentage of his vetoes overridden than any chief executive since Andrew Johnson served in the White House more than a century ago.

Tuesday's decisive Senate and House votes to enact a $2.75-billion nutrition bill over the President's objections marked the seventh time in 14 months that Congress has overridden a Ford veto.

The House tally of 397 to 18 was 120 more than the needed two-thirds, and the 79 to 13 Senate vote was 17 more than necessary, with Republicans breaking ranks to contribute heavily to the tally.

Since becoming president, Ford has vetoed 39 bills. The seven successful overrides give the heavily Democratic Congress a score of 18 per cent. Woodrow Wilson, overridden on six of 44 vetoes, is next highest in the post-Johnson era with about 14 per cent.

Unless Ford and Congress can agree on spending cuts, Ford may get a chance to veto a lot more bills. Rep. Robert H. Michel, R-Ill., says Ford is adamant on cutting spending. He quoted Ford as promising that "if he has to veto 100 bills to hold down spending, he'll do it."

Johnson, a Republican, vetoed 29 bills during his presidency from 1865 to 1869. Congress overrode him 15 times, a score of more than 50 per cent and by far the worst presidential performance in the nation's history.

Since then, virtually all presidential vetoes have stuck. One reason is that in most cases, Congress and the White House have been controlled by the same party.

By comparison, Congress overrode 12 of President Harry S. Truman's 250 vetoes, or about 5 per cent. Truman was a Democrat.

Democrat Franklin D. Roosevelt, who served a record 12 years in the presidency, vetoed a record total of bills — 635. Congress overrode him only nine times, or about 1 per cent of the time.

Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower vetoed 181 bills in eight years, and Congress only overrode him twice, also about 1 per cent.

Democrats John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson vetoed 21 and 30 measures respectively between 1961 and 1969 without ever losing.

Richard M. Nixon, battling Democratic congresses, vetoed 43 bills in 5½ years and lost five times or about 12 per cent of his vetoes.

Tuesday's action marked the third time in recent weeks Congress has enacted a bill expanding social program into law over Ford's veto.

The other two were bills covering a variety of federal health programs and the appropriations measure for the government's education programs.

Shortening Of U.S. Schooling Urged By Ex-Education Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — American schools provide more formal education than a student needs, and high school or college should be shortened by a year or more, says a former U.S. commissioner of education.

Harold Howe II, who held the top education post from 1965 to 1968, also said Tuesday that adults should be allowed a year or more of education later in life.

Speaking at a four-day conference sponsored by the Washington Journalism Center, Howe, now a vice president of the Ford Foundation, said that 16 years of U.S. education — starting at age 6 and ending at 21 — is a luxury no other country has.

"People get fed up with classrooms after being in them for 16 years," he said, adding that it would be preferable for adults to be allowed a year of formal education at government expense when they are more mature and in a better position to appreciate it.

Howe also said he suspects television is responsible for the decline in national test scores among students.

"No one knows why the scores are going down," he said. "But we're now seeing a generation that has been watching television throughout its lifetime."

He added that many children watch TV four to six hours a day while children from lowerincome families watch even more.

Howe predicted that when schools are asked where the fault of lower test scores lie, they will respond with a "backto-basics" movement and by becoming more strict.

"They'll regiment kids and force learning down their throats," he said. "And kids will do what they've always done — throw it up."

In other comments, Howe said he thinks the women's movement will have a growing impact on the nation's schools.

"Some think it's a fad and will disappear," he said. "I disagree. I think it's a major movement in American society. It's a large scale enterprise that will affect textbooks, guidance and staffing in the schools, particularly at upper levels — principals and superintendents. The models kids usually see now are men."

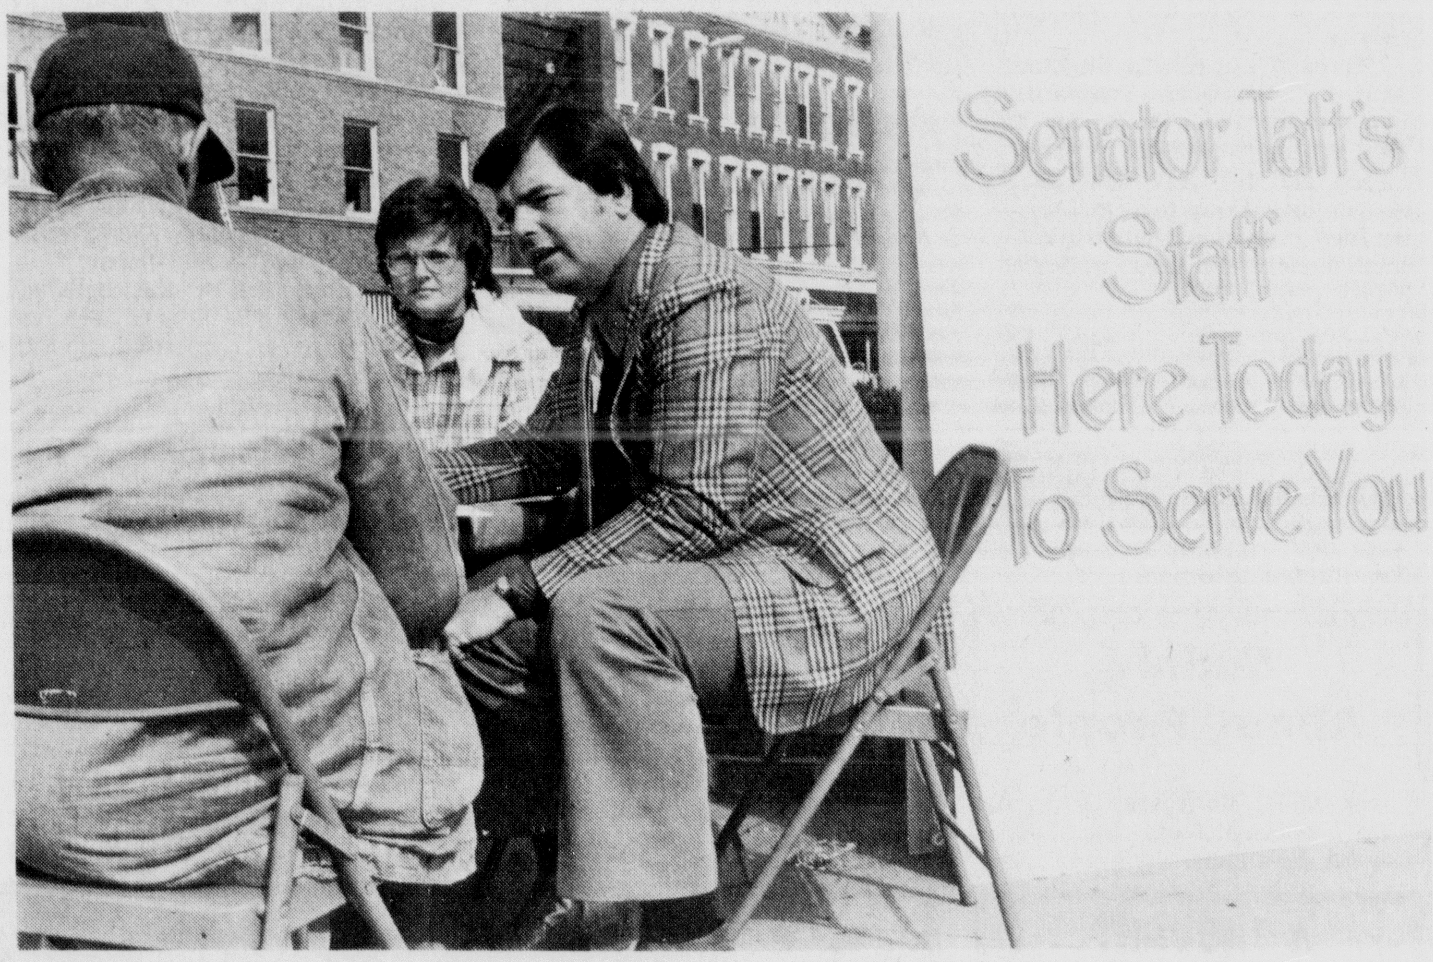
Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower vetoed 181 bills in eight years, and Congress only overrode him twice, also about 1 per cent.

Democrats John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson vetoed 21 and 30 measures respectively between 1961 and 1969 without ever losing.

Richard M. Nixon, battling Democratic congresses, vetoed 43 bills in 5½ years and lost five times or about 12 per cent of his vetoes.

Tuesday's action marked the third time in recent weeks Congress has enacted a bill expanding social program into law over Ford's veto.

The other two were bills covering a variety of federal health programs and the appropriations measure for the government's education programs.



RED-TAPE CUTTERS—Reed H. Boatright and Jackie Farmer, special assistants to U.S. Senator Robert Taft Jr., brought their ombudsman-type services to Circleville Tuesday, the first time they've tried their on-the-street problem-solving attack. Boatright explained that Taft's official office, at 121 E. State St. Columbus, must service a 42-county area. "We realize that people in non-metropolitan areas don't have easy access to our services, so we are trying to bring our services here," he said. Circleville will actually be a test area, he said, pointing out that he will hit four or five other counts seats to determine if the program is successful. Taft's assistants are primarily interested in dealing with persons who have problems with the federal government.

Shortening Of U.S. Schooling Urged By Ex-Education Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — American schools provide more formal education than a student needs, and high school or college should be shortened by a year or more, says a former U.S. commissioner of education.

Harold Howe II, who held the top education post from 1965 to 1968, also said Tuesday that adults should be allowed a year or more of education later in life.

Speaking at a four-day conference sponsored by the Washington Journalism Center, Howe, now a vice president of the Ford Foundation, said that 16 years of U.S. education — starting at age 6 and ending at 21 — is a luxury no other country has.

"People get fed up with classrooms after being in them for 16 years," he said, adding that it would be preferable for adults to be allowed a year of formal education at government expense when they are more mature and in a better position to appreciate it.

Howe also said he suspects television is responsible for the decline in national test scores among students.

"No one knows why the scores are going down," he said. "But we're now seeing a generation that has been watching television throughout its lifetime."

He added that many children watch TV four to six hours a day while children from lowerincome families watch even more.

Howe predicted that when schools are asked where the fault of lower test scores lie, they will respond with a "backto-basics" movement and by becoming more strict.

"They'll regiment kids and force learning down their throats," he said. "And kids will do what they've always done — throw it up."

In other comments, Howe said he thinks the women's movement will have a growing impact on the nation's schools.

"Some think it's a fad and will disappear," he said. "I disagree. I think it's a major movement in American society. It's a large scale enterprise that will affect textbooks, guidance and staffing in the schools, particularly at upper levels — principals and superintendents. The models kids usually see now are men."

Spiraling Violence Reported In Spain

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Terrorists attacked a police headquarters in Barcelona early today and sparked a big gunbattle in which police shot and killed three innocent civilians and two of their own officers, police reported.

Two other persons, including one policeman, were gravely wounded.

The attack left eight policemen and three civilians dead in seven days of spiraling political violence in Spain, plunged into deep crisis both at home and abroad by the executions of five young terrorists Sept. 27.

Police said the latest attack, in the working class district of La Verneda, came at 1 a.m. — 8 p.m. EDT Tuesday — as a group of gunmen drove past the barracks firing with submachine guns.

Police guards, untouched by the bullets, returned fire and in error riddled a second car, killing a couple and their 22-year-old son and seriously wounding a fourth person in their car.

Continuing to fire, police then hit three of their colleagues returning from a night call. Two died instantly, and a third was seriously wounded, police said.

Barcelona is a stronghold of the urban guerrilla organization FRAP — the Patriotic Revolutionary Anti-Fascist Front — which lost three militants to police firing squads 12 days ago. The three had been convicted of killing policemen.

Four days after the executions, FRAP commandos were blamed for killing another three policemen in Madrid, bloodying celebrations marking the 39th anniversary of Gen. Francisco Franco's rise to power in Spain.

Two Basque separatists also convicted of killing policemen were executed in addition to the three FRAP militants Sept. 27.

On Sunday, terrorists in the northern Basque country killed three civil guardsmen by blowing up their jeep in apparent retaliation for the executions of the five terrorists. Hours later, gunmen killed the owner of a Basque bar in apparent reprisal.

On Monday, Franco's son-in-law, Dr. Cristobal MartinezBordiu, 52, was punched in the nose by Dutch tourists angry over the executions. He was hospitalized with facial injuries.

Seventeen policemen had died prior to today as a result of political violence, six in the past week.

Rightists, meanwhile, continued a drive to whip up support for Franco and his crackdown on terrorism, calling a mass rally tonight in Valencia, 200 miles south of Barcelona.

A group of demonstrators enraged by foreign criticism of Spain's terrorist executions marched on Madrid's Hotel Sweden late Tuesday night, shouting abuse against Swedish Premier Olof Palme, one of Spain's most outspoken critics.

The demonstrators smashed windows and threw bottles, but caused no injuries.

Man Enters Guilty Plea

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — John Shaw, 28, of Pittsburgh, one of 10 men indicted in the March dynamiting of a Shelton, Conn., factory, pleaded guilty Tuesday to federal charges.

Shaw, who earlier had pleaded innocent, entered a guilty plea in U.S. District Court to charges of conspiracy and interstate travel to aid racketeering.

Officials said Shaw was expected to be a government witness against the nine codefendants who have all pleaded innocent to arson-related federal charges.

Investigators have said unofficially that Shaw admitted he helped destroy the $10 million Sponge Rubber Products Co. plant March 1.

Judge Jon O. Newman has ordered that Shaw be tried separately from the other nine men.

Among the remaining defendants are Charles D. Moeller of Cridersville, Ohio, president of the company's parent firm, the Rev. David N. Bubar of Memphis, Tenn., and seven Pennsylvania men.

Bubar, who claims to have psychic powers, has been a spiritual advisor to Moeller and had been at the factory for some time before the explosion.

All of the defendants except Moeller have also been charged by the state with arson, burglary or kidnapping counts stemming from the fire.

Northern Rockies Hit By Snowfall

By The Associated Press

Snow was falling early today over the northern Rockies while clouds were spreading from the eastern Gulf Coast and South Atlantic Coast into the Ohio Valley. Showers and thundershowers fell from Florida into the southern parts of Illinois and Indiana.

An intense low pressure center over Wyoming brought cold air over a large part of the Western states during the night, and the front brought the first widespread snowfall of the season to the northern Rockies. Snow was reported in southeast Idaho, western Montana and Wyoming.

Earlier, snow was reported in the northern sections of Nevada and Utah. Clouds ahead of the weather system were spreading into the central Rockies and northern Plains.

An inch of snow was reported at Great Falls, Mont., Idaho Falls, Idaho, and Owyhee, Nev.

The low pressure also was causing strong winds over a wide area of the Plains and Rockies. Winds reached 54 miles per hour at Cheyenne, Wyo. with guests of over 30 m.p.h. common elsewhere.

The surge of cold air behind the storm dropped many temperatures into the 30s over the Northwest with a few 20s in the northern plateau where partial clearing had begun. A frost warning was issued for the valleys of southwest Idaho.

Temperatures in the Plains, ahead of the cold front, remained mostly in the 60s on Tuesday.

Temperatures in the 30s also were reported in Pennsylvania, New York and the New England states, while 70s and a few 80s remained over the extreme southeast.

Temperatures around the nation at 3 a.m. (EDT) ranged from 82 at Key West and Fort Lauderdale, Fla., to 28 at Concord, N.H.

The forecast for today called for showers, with snow in the higher mountains, over Montana, Wyoming and Colorado. Showers were possible in the Dakotas, the western high Plains and the Pacific Northwest, with widely-scattered showers in western and central Kansas. Showers and thunderstorms will be scattered in southeast Georgia and Florida, with rain and showers north into the central and southern Appalachians and the Ohio Valley. It will be sunny in the North Atlantic Coast and the Desert Southwest states, and partly cloudy to cloudy elsewhere. The central and southern plateau, the Rockies, the northern and central Great Plains and the Northeast states will be cooler.

Spiraling Violence Reported In Spain

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Terrorists attacked a police headquarters in Barcelona early today and sparked a big gunbattle in which police shot and killed three innocent civilians and two of their own officers, police reported.

Two other persons, including one policeman, were gravely wounded.

The attack left eight policemen and three civilians dead in seven days of spiraling political violence in Spain, plunged into deep crisis both at home and abroad by the executions of five young terrorists Sept. 27.

Police said the latest attack, in the working class district of La Verneda, came at 1 a.m. — 8 p.m. EDT Tuesday — as a group of gunmen drove past the barracks firing with submachine guns.

Police guards, untouched by the bullets, returned fire and in error riddled a second car, killing a couple and their 22-year-old son and seriously wounding a fourth person in their car.

Continuing to fire, police then hit three of their colleagues returning from a night call. Two died instantly, and a third was seriously wounded, police said.

Barcelona is a stronghold of the urban guerrilla organization FRAP — the Patriotic Revolutionary Anti-Fascist Front — which lost three militants to police firing squads 12 days ago. The three had been convicted of killing policemen.

Four days after the executions, FRAP commandos were blamed for killing another three policemen in Madrid, bloodying celebrations marking the 39th anniversary of Gen. Francisco Franco's rise to power in Spain.

Two Basque separatists also convicted of killing policemen were executed in addition to the three FRAP militants Sept. 27.

On Sunday, terrorists in the northern Basque country killed three civil guardsmen by blowing up their jeep in apparent retaliation for the executions of the five terrorists. Hours later, gunmen killed the owner of a Basque bar in apparent reprisal.

On Monday, Franco's son-in-law, Dr. Cristobal MartinezBordiu, 52, was punched in the nose by Dutch tourists angry over the executions. He was hospitalized with facial injuries.

Seventeen policemen had died prior to today as a result of political violence, six in the past week.

Rightists, meanwhile, continued a drive to whip up support for Franco and his crackdown on terrorism, calling a mass rally tonight in Valencia, 200 miles south of Barcelona.

A group of demonstrators enraged by foreign criticism of Spain's terrorist executions marched on Madrid's Hotel Sweden late Tuesday night, shouting abuse against Swedish Premier Olof Palme, one of Spain's most outspoken critics.

The demonstrators smashed windows and threw bottles, but caused no injuries.

Man Enters Guilty Plea

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — John Shaw, 28, of Pittsburgh, one of 10 men indicted in the March dynamiting of a Shelton, Conn., factory, pleaded guilty Tuesday to federal charges.

Shaw, who earlier had pleaded innocent, entered a guilty plea in U.S. District Court to charges of conspiracy and interstate travel to aid racketeering.

Officials said Shaw was expected to be a government witness against the nine codefendants who have all pleaded innocent to arson-related federal charges.

Investigators have said unofficially that Shaw admitted he helped destroy the $10 million Sponge Rubber Products Co. plant March 1.

Judge Jon O. Newman has ordered that Shaw be tried separately from the other nine men.

Among the remaining defendants are Charles D. Moeller of Cridersville, Ohio, president of the company's parent firm, the Rev. David N. Bubar of Memphis, Tenn., and seven Pennsylvania men.

Bubar, who claims to have psychic powers, has been a spiritual advisor to Moeller and had been at the factory for some time before the explosion.

All of the defendants except Moeller have also been charged by the state with arson, burglary or kidnapping counts stemming from the fire.

Northern Rockies Hit By Snowfall

By The Associated Press

Snow was falling early today over the northern Rockies while clouds were spreading from the eastern Gulf Coast and South Atlantic Coast into the Ohio Valley. Showers and thundershowers fell from Florida into the southern parts of Illinois and Indiana.

An intense low pressure center over Wyoming brought cold air over a large part of the Western states during the night, and the front brought the first widespread snowfall of the season to the northern Rockies. Snow was reported in southeast Idaho, western Montana and Wyoming.

Earlier, snow was reported in the northern sections of Nevada and Utah. Clouds ahead of the weather system were spreading into the central Rockies and northern Plains.

An inch of snow was reported at Great Falls, Mont., Idaho Falls, Idaho, and Owyhee, Nev.

The low pressure also was causing strong winds over a wide area of the Plains and Rockies. Winds reached 54 miles per hour at Cheyenne, Wyo. with guests of over 30 m.p.h. common elsewhere.

The surge of cold air behind the storm dropped many temperatures into the 30s over the Northwest with a few 20s in the northern plateau where partial clearing had begun. A frost warning was issued for the valleys of southwest Idaho.

Temperatures in the Plains, ahead of the cold front, remained mostly in the 60s on Tuesday.

Temperatures in the 30s also were reported in Pennsylvania, New York and the New England states, while 70s and a few 80s remained over the extreme southeast.

Temperatures around the nation at 3 a.m. (EDT) ranged from 82 at Key West and Fort Lauderdale, Fla., to 28 at Concord, N.H.

The forecast for today called for showers, with snow in the higher mountains, over Montana, Wyoming and Colorado. Showers were possible in the Dakotas, the western high Plains and the Pacific Northwest, with widely-scattered showers in western and central Kansas. Showers and thunderstorms will be scattered in southeast Georgia and Florida, with rain and showers north into the central and southern Appalachians and the Ohio Valley. It will be sunny in the North Atlantic Coast and the Desert Southwest states, and partly cloudy to cloudy elsewhere. The central and southern plateau, the Rockies, the northern and central Great Plains and the Northeast states will be cooler.

Kelly Kern Reigns As Homecoming Queen

By SHIRLEY FIELDS

The 1975 Homecoming Festivities at Westfall High School were held Sept. 26 and 27. It began with the Homecoming Ceremony before the football game Friday night.

The Homecoming Court was presented to the people, riding on cars in front of the stands. The Marching Mustang Band played "Have You Never Been Mellow," as the girls were escorted across the football field by the Senior football players.

The five girls on the court were seniors chosen by Senior class members. The girls are; Cathy Cochran, escorted by Tim Lett; Becky Conley, escorted by Roger Johnson; Lisa Creamer, escorted by Bill Evans; Kelly Kern, escorted by Eddie Myers; and April Neal, escorted by Randy Hildenbrand.

The 1975 Homecoming Queen, who was voted by the entire high school student body was Kelly Kern. As the queen was announced, balloons flew into the air. Randy Hildenbrand, captain of the football team, then crowned and kissed Queen Kelly as her reign began.

Last year's Queen, Paula Mossbacker, escorted by John Graffis, presented Queen Kelly with a dozen roses. Then our new Queen went to the stands to sit on her throne with her court.

In honor of Queen Kelly and to win our first SVC game, the Mustangs stampeded the Adena Warriors with a win of 20 to 13.

To finish the 1975 Homecoming Festivities, a dance was held Saturday night. The theme "Take Me Home Country Roads" was decorated in fall colors, As one entered you went through a row of corn stalks and pumpkins, under a silver arch onto the dancefloor, enclosed by scenes of mountains and country roads.

Couples could dance to the music of "Four Island Park" or snack at the refreshment table and sit at tables lit with lighted candles.

Couples who chose to have their pictures taken, were placed in front of a beautiful mural of two trees grown together, to make a heart with leaves in beautiful fall colors, drawn and painted by Dawn Corbin.

The dance sponsored by the Senior Class, turned out to be a huge success attended by both students and alumni. The 1975 Homecoming Festivities will be a fond memory to everyone who took part.

Vocal Music Teacher New At Westfall

PATRICIA BEATHARD

By JACQUI RICE

Mrs. Patricia Beathard, vocal music teacher, is new at Westfall this year. She lives with her husband, James, at Route 2, Circleville.

She graduated from Capital University with a Bachelor of Music Education Degree. Mrs. Beathard taught at Adena Schools for three years.

Her hobbies include cooking, gardening, reading, and listening to all kinds of music. People who lack enthusiasm, rainy days, and Monday mornings are her dislikes.

Mrs. Beathard's opinion of Westfall is, "I feel that Westfall is a nice, friendly, school which offers many kinds of experiences for it's student body. It is small enough, so that everyone can get to know others easily and so that everyone can get involved in the activities of the school."

Her opinion of the students is, "I feel that the students I work with are talented and hard working. They seem to enjoy what they are doing. I wish that more of the students could become involved in the vocal music department. I imagine there are many more talented students at Westfall, who should be involved, because high school is their best opportunity to become involved in many different kinds of experiences. From these experiences, they can then better choose the experiences which are more meaningful to them to benefit them throughout life."

We would like to take this opportunity to welcome Mrs. Beathard and wish her the best of luck.

News About WHS Students At PRVC

By VICKI WILKEY

EDITOR'S NOTE: This year, "Mustang Country" will be giving our fellow students at the Pickaway-Ross Vocational Center (PRVC) a column in our news section. Mustang Country feels this is a big step forward towards opening communication channels between Westfall and the PRVC.

Vicki Wilkey will be our PRVC reporter. The staff hopes that you, the reader, will enjoy learning about PRVC and it's activities.

Each student at the Vocational School is a member of a club. The clubs in which Westfall students are participating in are as follows with the different classes joined in the club and the goal of each club.

The Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) helps prepare youth for futures in the trade, industrial, technical, and health occupations. This club involves many classes which includes Diversified Health, Cosmetology, Printing, Auto Mechanics, Law Enforcement, Machine Shop, Agricultural Mechanics Welding, Carpentry and Horticulture.

On Sept. 18, candidates for the VICA queen were introduced. The girls entering from Westfall are Jerri Pennington, Donica Brigner, and Judy Linton. The cosmetology class has offered to fix the candidate's hair while trying out. The queen will be chosen soon.

HERO

The Home Economics Related Occupations Club is often referred to as the HERO Club. Classes participating in it are Home and Community, Food Service, and Child Care. The club's goal is to help students assume their roles in society through Home Economics Education in areas of personal growth, family life, vocational preparation and community involvement. All students have the opportunity to participate in local, district, and state competitions with projects having to do with HERO. The HERO Club meets every second Thursday of each month. HERO had it's first meeting Sept. 25, and chose officers from the Junior classes.

Also queen applications were given to any girl wishing to participate. Two girls from Westfall are candidates. They are Lisa Hughes, junior, and Kathy Doudy, senior.

OEA

The club in which Westfall students from the classes of clerk typist, high skilled steno, and Accounting and Computing participate in is the Office Education Association Club (OEA).

VICA Club is sponsoring a mixer Oct. 10, for all vocational students. If weather permits, it will be held outside in the parking lot area. Different activities such as dancing and games will be going on. This activity is being held to help the students from different schools get to know one another.

HERO Club is participating in an egg throwing contest as a game for the mixer.

Nursery School children will be coming to the nursery school in the Child Care class which began Sept. 29.

Kelly Kern Reigns As Homecoming Queen

By SHIRLEY FIELDS

The 1975 Homecoming Festivities at Westfall High School were held Sept. 26 and 27. It began with the Homecoming Ceremony before the football game Friday night.

The Homecoming Court was presented to the people, riding on cars in front of the stands. The Marching Mustang Band played "Have You Never Been Mellow," as the girls were escorted across the football field by the Senior football players.

The five girls on the court were seniors chosen by Senior class members. The girls are; Cathy Cochran, escorted by Tim Lett; Becky Conley, escorted by Roger Johnson; Lisa Creamer, escorted by Bill Evans; Kelly Kern, escorted by Eddie Myers; and April Neal, escorted by Randy Hildenbrand.

The 1975 Homecoming Queen, who was voted by the entire high school student body was Kelly Kern. As the queen was announced, balloons flew into the air. Randy Hildenbrand, captain of the football team, then crowned and kissed Queen Kelly as her reign began.

Last year's Queen, Paula Mossbacker, escorted by John Graffis, presented Queen Kelly with a dozen roses. Then our new Queen went to the stands to sit on her throne with her court.

In honor of Queen Kelly and to win our first SVC game, the Mustangs stampeded the Adena Warriors with a win of 20 to 13.

To finish the 1975 Homecoming Festivities, a dance was held Saturday night. The theme "Take Me Home Country Roads" was decorated in fall colors, As one entered you went through a row of corn stalks and pumpkins, under a silver arch onto the dancefloor, enclosed by scenes of mountains and country roads.

Couples could dance to the music of "Four Island Park" or snack at the refreshment table and sit at tables lit with lighted candles.

Couples who chose to have their pictures taken, were placed in front of a beautiful mural of two trees grown together, to make a heart with leaves in beautiful fall colors, drawn and painted by Dawn Corbin.

The dance sponsored by the Senior Class, turned out to be a huge success attended by both students and alumni. The 1975 Homecoming Festivities will be a fond memory to everyone who took part.

Vocal Music Teacher New At Westfall

PATRICIA BEATHARD

By JACQUI RICE

Mrs. Patricia Beathard, vocal music teacher, is new at Westfall this year. She lives with her husband, James, at Route 2, Circleville.

She graduated from Capital University with a Bachelor of Music Education Degree. Mrs. Beathard taught at Adena Schools for three years.

Her hobbies include cooking, gardening, reading, and listening to all kinds of music. People who lack enthusiasm, rainy days, and Monday mornings are her dislikes.

Mrs. Beathard's opinion of Westfall is, "I feel that Westfall is a nice, friendly, school which offers many kinds of experiences for it's student body. It is small enough, so that everyone can get to know others easily and so that everyone can get involved in the activities of the school."

Her opinion of the students is, "I feel that the students I work with are talented and hard working. They seem to enjoy what they are doing. I wish that more of the students could become involved in the vocal music department. I imagine there are many more talented students at Westfall, who should be involved, because high school is their best opportunity to become involved in many different kinds of experiences. From these experiences, they can then better choose the experiences which are more meaningful to them to benefit them throughout life."

We would like to take this opportunity to welcome Mrs. Beathard and wish her the best of luck.

New Students Welcomed

By BARB MACE

Sherry and Mike Moore are new students at Westfall High School this year. They are the daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Goodin of Clark's Lake, formerly from Columbus.

This school year Sherry is a senior and is a former student from West High School. Sherry is quite pleased with the Westfall faculty.

Sherry's hobby is playing the piano. She also enjoys football games and parties. Sherry dislikes dances and study halls.

Mike, a sophomore, was a former student from Hilltonia Junior High.

Mike's hobbies include sports, weight lifting, and listening to music. His favorite sport is basketball.

Mike is happy that Westfall isn't as crowded as Hilltonia school in Columbus. He is quite pleased about Westfall's sport programs and the faculty.

The last question that Mike was aksed in his interview was to tell his dislikes. Can you believe he dislikes interviews?

Four Westfall FHA members attended the Future Homemakers of America Sub-Regional Convention, held Sept. 27 at Sheridan High School.

These four members, accompanied by Miss Miller, included Jean Rush, Tina Cotril, Doreen Downs, and Pam Garrison.

The convention included work-shops on the different areas of FHA. There was also a Miss Ohio FHA District contest in which Pam Garrison was Westfall's FHA representative. The girls received a morning snack and lunch, which was followed by a program. The convention lasted from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

News About WHS Students At PRVC

By VICKI WILKEY

EDITOR'S NOTE: This year, "Mustang Country" will be giving our fellow students at the Pickaway-Ross Vocational Center (PRVC) a column in our news section. Mustang Country feels this is a big step forward towards opening communication channels between Westfall and the PRVC.

Vicki Wilkey will be our PRVC reporter. The staff hopes that you, the reader, will enjoy learning about PRVC and it's activities.

Each student at the Vocational School is a member of a club. The clubs in which Westfall students are participating in are as follows with the different classes joined in the club and the goal of each club.

VICA

The Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) helps prepare youth for futures in the trade, industrial, technical, and health occupations. This club involves many classes which includes Diversified Health, Cosmetology, Printing, Auto Mechanics, Law Enforcement, Machine Shop, Agricultural Mechanics Welding, Carpentry and Horticulture.

VICA Club is selling magazines to raise money to send club members to camp for competition against students all over the world.

On Sept. 18, candidates for the VICA queen were introduced. The girls entering from Westfall are Jerri Pennington, Donica Brigner, and Judy Linton. The cosmetology class has offered to fix the candidate's hair while trying out. The queen will be chosen soon.

HERO

The Home Economics Related Occupations Club is often referred to as the HERO Club. Classes participating in it are Home and Community, Food Service, and Child Care. The club's goal is to help students assume their roles in society through Home Economics Education in areas of personal growth, family life, vocational preparation and community involvement. All students have the opportunity to participate in local, district, and state competitions with projects having to do with HERO. The HERO Club meets every second Thursday of each month. HERO had it's first meeting Sept. 25, and chose officers from the Junior classes.

Also queen applications were given to any girl wishing to participate. Two girls from Westfall are candidates. They are Lisa Hughes, junior, and Kathy Doudy, senior.

OEA

The club in which Westfall students from the classes of clerk typist, high skilled steno, and Accounting and Computing participate in is the Office Education Association Club (OEA).

This club's goal is to develop the student's leadership abilities, interest in the American Business System, and the ability in office occupations. Officers will be chosen and named soon.

Class Activities

A field trip was taken by Agriculture Business, Horticulture, and Agricultural Mechanics to the Farm Science Review in Columbus on Sept. 18. The students seemed to have enjoyed the trip and saw a lot of equipment.

VICA Club is sponsoring a mixer Oct. 10, for all vocational students. If weather permits, it will be held outside in the parking lot area. Different activities such as dancing and games will be going on. This activity is being held to help the students from different schools get to know one another.

HERO Club is participating in an egg throwing contest as a game for the mixer.

Nursery School children will be coming to the nursery school in the Child Care class which began Sept. 29.

Stringing Us Along

By JIM BISHOP

HILTON HEAD, S.C. (KFS) — Bill Scanlon and I were playing the Palmetto Dunes course when he told me the heartrending story of his Aunt Nora. It required 18 holes to tell it, but it was worth it because we both had a good cry.

Aunt Nora and Uncle Tim made a perfect match. They disagreed all the time. Tim was a short man with hair like a swatch of swale grass. He had a firm opinion about anything, especially if he didn't understand it.

Nora was a dumpling. Her lard leaked to her ankles. She waited until after the wedding before telling Tim her secret ambition. She wanted to be a harpist. The first dispute about this occurred immediately after the honeymoon.

Tim said he wouldn't buy Nora a harp if they were selling for a dime a dozen. Where could anybody hide a harp in a three-room apartment? Nora said she'd find a place. Tim said he'd go for a piano. Nothing doing, said Nora. It's a harp or nothing.

Well, it was nothing for a long time. One day Uncle Tim lost his senses and bought a $2,000 harp — $500 down and the rest in 24 months. It was a thing of beauty. It went in the center of the living room. Uncle Tim said he used to talk to Aunt Nora through the bars.

It was a big instrument indeed. Tim said he was the only host to have parties in the bedroom. Aunt Nora took lessons faithfully. She wore a look of ecstasy when she wrapped her knees around that harp.

However, not everyone is a born harpist. Nora learned two songs well enough to play for guests: "Rock of Ages" and "Nearer My God to Thee." Tim said a rendition never psyched him up for a party. But then, he was opposed to harps whether on one leg or two.

Nora had the thing for years. One night she thought she heard something in the kitchen. She came running out of the bedroom into the living room and fell through the harp. She had a broken leg. The doctor put the limb into a big fat cast. He was noted for his poor memory. After the cast was on, he went on a safari to Africa.

Poor Aunt Nora lifted that leg and dropped it for months. By the time the doctor got back, Nora would have been better off with one leg. Uncle Tim said the harp had to go. "I have spoken," he said solemnly. Aunt Nora said, "Shaddup!"

All she played was "Rock of Ages" and "Nearer My God to Thee." It drove Uncle Tim up every wall in the house. It didn't improve the disposition of the neighbors either.

He bribed her with a new coat. Okay, she said, put it in the bedroom until I get more proficient with rich music. It stood in a corner under an old quilt.

Uncle Tim would be sleeping when a string busted. He knew what they cost. "Woman," he would say in his low growl, "There goes another four bucks." Aunt Nora always replaced strings, even though the instrument never got out of the corner.

One night a string went with a stinging whine and Uncle Tim went off with it. "That," he said, quoting himself, "is that. The damn thing gets sold in the morning."

He was surprised to find that there aren't too many people pining away the years waiting to buy a harp. So he placed an advertisement in a music magazine: "One elegant harp. Hardly used. For sale $3,000."

This was a thousand more than he paid for it. Nora cried. She didn't want to sell it. "God," he muttered, "look what the damn thing did for you. You're still limping." Tim promised that if he could find a sucker to buy it, he'd get Nora a little car.

A few letters came in. One from Burlingame, Calif., asked for a picture of the harp. Tim had to go out and buy a camera. He made photos from all angles. The letter from the lady in California stated: "Just what I want. Am sending a bank check."

Tim got the check. He and Nora inched the big harp onto the elevator. A man squeezed on at another floor. He took one look at Nora, another at the harp, and stared at the ceiling.

The harp went to California. They buyer sent word that it had a big crack in it. She wanted her money back. Uncle Tim wrote that it didn't have a crack when Nora kissed it goodbye. The lady's husband was a lawyer.

Uncle Tim settled by returning a thousand dollars. Now he had exactly what he had paid for it. It made him so mad that he told Nora he couldn't buy her a car. How about a bicycle?

Aung Nora used her favorite phrase: "Ah, shaddup!" Scanlon completed the story as I was missing a final putt. I never believe anything he says . . .

Business World

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The question that arises immediately in connection with President Ford's proposed $28 billion tax cut is whether it is feasible, economically or politically.

Nearly three-quarters of budget expenditures are what has come to be termed uncontrollable. That is, because of laws and actions made in prior years, like it or not, the government is committed to spend those funds.

If, as the President said, spending seems headed toward $423 billion next year, a $28 billion cut would amount to a reduction of between 6 and 7 per cent, not merely of the one-quarter of the budget under control, but of the total budget.

Whether such an accomplishment is possible, especially in a politically volatile election year, is debatable at best. Rep. Brock Adams, D-Wash, chairman of the House Budget Committee, immediately called it unrealistic.

What are these "uncontrollables" that leave the President and Congress so few options in changing the course of federal spending? The biggest by far are expenditures for Social Security and railroad retirement, accounting for roughly one-third.

Smaller in percentage, but so numerous as to underscore the point, are a basketful of other expenditures, including unemployment assistance, veterans benefits, medicare and medicaid, housing aid, revenue sharing.

Of growing importance is interest on the national debt, which amounted to "only" $10.3 billion as recently as fiscal 1967 but which had risen to $22 billion in fiscal 1975, the result of more borrowing and higher interest rates.

The President's hope that both taxes and government expenditures can be cut simultaneously is consistent with the economic and political philosophy he has espoused since he took office — and before.

In his view, a growing federal establishment threatens to drain away the prosperity and vitality of America, "as one big spending program after another has been piled on the federal pyramid ..."

The bureaucratic superstructure, he maintains, is "taking a larger share of your personal income and creating record budget deficits and inflation," while at the same time "trying to run too much of your daily life."

This is a very basic dispute that underlies almost every political and economic argument in the country today, and it has long been so. It is in the substratum of the American psyche, sometimes quiescent, sometimes boiling.

The President, it now seems, believes the underground rumblings must be quieted or the pyramid, like a volcano, might blow its head. It seems to be his hope that he can seal it off before that happens.

However, a look at some comparative statistics suggest the situation might not exist or be resolved at the federal level alone. The biggest percentage increases in government spending in recent years have been at city and state levels.

Part of this might be due to increases in revenue distribution, or aid from federal government receipts, but not entirely.

The Tax Foundation, which describes itself as a nonpartisan, nonprofit research and educational organization, shows that in recent years per capita Federal expenditures have fallen slightly in percentage while state spending has tended higher.

In almost any statistical breakdown of governmental spending, whether at local, state or federal level, the fact that steps out of the number in bold relief is that debt is rising at all levels of government.

This suggests, of course, that Americans seem to be expecting more from their governments than they are willing or able to pay for. No problem seems too big to be overcome, but the expense seems to be.

Turning back the growing demand for governmental services will be difficult, politically and economically, because it pits two basic but opposing American views about government that have existed since the Revolution.

Ford seems to be attacking not just the amount of federal spending and the spread of federal control, but a notion he fears might also become ingrained in the American spirit — that bills are indefinitely postponeable, and that meanwhile you can get something for nothing.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My uncle was taken to the hospital and is being treated for "left heart failure." What does this mean?

Miss U. B., Mo.

Dear Miss B.:

I can understand your confusion. You probably assume that there is both a left heart and a right heart.

Actually, these are terms that have special meaning to doctors only. They refer to the two sides of the heart.

The heart has four chambers, with two auricles and two ventricles. There is one auricle and one ventricle on each side of the heart.

Blood that circulates through the body, bringing vital oxygen to all its parts, is then returned to the "right heart." The "right heart" muscle now pumps this blood into the lungs to reaccumulate more oxygen.

Then the newly oxygenated blood enters the chambers of the "left heart," which again pumps the blood to all the distant parts of the body.

"Left heart failure" simply means that the muscle of the left side of the heart, or ventricle, is not strong enough to adequately pump blood. This results in a damming back of the blood and interfence with proper circulation.

I thought that spinal anesthesia is no longer used. Wasn't this given up because it was dangerous?

Mr. T. K., La.

Dear Mr. K.:

Spinal anesthesia is still used for many operations below the waist.

Many surgeons prefer spinal anesthesia to general anesthesia for operations on the bladder, the prostate, for hernias, and for hemorrhoids.

Spinal anesthesia, known as "epidural and caudal block," is also used as a local anesthetic for patients who are considered high risks for general anesthesia.

It is remarkably safe and effective. It is not dangerous.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH . . . Bad posture must be corrected early. Long-lasting effects on the body structure can thus be avoided.

Lebanese Fighting Flares Up Again

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Machinegun fighting broke out again today between the predominantly Moslem port city of Tripoli and the Christian town of Zagarta in north Lebanon, telephone reports said.

Witnesses said the exchange at one point involved Palestinian guerrillas in the refugee camp of Baddawi who lobbed three mortar shells at olive groves where fighters from Zagarta set up their advance lines.

Four persons including two soldiers were reported injured in the fighting which still was reported under way two hours after the initial outbreak at midday.

Sporadic shooting also revived in two Beirut suburbs — the Moslem Shiite district of Chiyah and the Maronite Christian area of Ein Rummaneh. A police spokesman said one woman had been killed and three men wounded in the past 24 hours. Snipers kept roads in the two areas closed.

Both sides have accused each other of failing to comply with a demilitarization accord that called for dismantling street barricades and withdrawal of all armed men from Chiyah and Ein Rummaneh.

Army forces have been manning buffer zones between Tripoli, home town of Premier Rashid Karami, a Moslem, and Zagarta, home town of President Suleiman Franjieh, a Christian.

The reports said the guerrilla leadership and senior army officers in the north were trying to negotiate a cease-fire and arranging for an exchange of abducted persons between the two sides.

The new tension in Beirut and the north raised fears that another round of widespread sectarian fighting may break out after the current Eid El Fitr holiday which ends the Moslem month of fasting, known as Ramadan.

About 6,000 persons have been killed and 18,000 injured in five rounds of religious warfare since April. A 10-day battle last month in Tripoli and Zagarta took more than 400 lives and wounded 1,000 persons.

Progress In Forestry Talks Made

VICTORIA, B.C. (AP) — Government-initiated talks aimed at settling the British Columbia forest industry dispute entered their fourth week today, and one union official says progress was being made.

Earl Foxcroft, president of the International Woodworkers of America Eastern Vancouver Island Local, said that if the mood of Monday's talks carries into subsequent meetings, the two sides could be on the way to a tentative settlement.

Foxcroft declined, however, to elaborate on what progress has been made, or how long he expects it to take before a settlement is reached.

Negotiators for the IWA were considering an undisclosed company proposal made Monday that is believed to deal, at least indirectly, with the issue of the three-year strike at Canadian Forest Product's Huntting-Merritt shingle mill in Vancouver.

The Huntting-Merritt dispute, which the union insists cannot be discussed by the coast negotiating committee, was a major stumbling block in mediation talks last week.

Jack Munro, regional IWA president, met Monday with Labor Minister Bill King and said later the minister impressed on him the significance of the dispute. There are 35,000 IWA members involved in the dispute.

The 13,000 members of the Canadian Paperworkers Union and the P9lp, Paper and Woodworkers of Canada went on strike July 16 and their pickets as well as economic problems have resulted in the shutdown of about 90 per cent of the province's forest industry.

Stringing Us Along

By JIM BISHOP

HILTON HEAD, S.C. (KFS) — Bill Scanlon and I were playing the Palmetto Dunes course when he told me the heartrending story of his Aunt Nora. It required 18 holes to tell it, but it was worth it because we both had a good cry.

Aunt Nora and Uncle Tim made a perfect match. They disagreed all the time. Tim was a short man with hair like a swatch of swale grass. He had a firm opinion about anything, especially if he didn't understand it.

Nora was a dumpling. Her lard leaked to her ankles. She waited until after the wedding before telling Tim her secret ambition. She wanted to be a harpist. The first dispute about this occurred immediately after the honeymoon.

Tim said he wouldn't buy Nora a harp if they were selling for a dime a dozen. Where could anybody hide a harp in a three-room apartment? Nora said she'd find a place. Tim said he'd go for a piano. Nothing doing, said Nora. It's a harp or nothing.

Well, it was nothing for a long time. One day Uncle Tim lost his senses and bought a $2,000 harp — $500 down and the rest in 24 months. It was a thing of beauty. It went in the center of the living room. Uncle Tim said he used to talk to Aunt Nora through the bars.

It was a big instrument indeed. Tim said he was the only host to have parties in the bedroom. Aunt Nora took lessons faithfully. She wore a look of ecstasy when she wrapped her knees around that harp.

However, not everyone is a born harpist. Nora learned two songs well enough to play for guests: "Rock of Ages" and "Nearer My God to Thee." Tim said a rendition never psyched him up for a party. But then, he was opposed to harps whether on one leg or two.

Nora had the thing for years. One night she thought she heard something in the kitchen. She came running out of the bedroom into the living room and fell through the harp. She had a broken leg. The doctor put the limb into a big fat cast. He was noted for his poor memory. After the cast was on, he went on a safari to Africa.

Poor Aunt Nora lifted that leg and dropped it for months. By the time the doctor got back, Nora would have been better off with one leg. Uncle Tim said the harp had to go. "I have spoken," he said solemnly. Aunt Nora said, "Shaddup!"

All she played was "Rock of Ages" and "Nearer My God to Thee." It drove Uncle Tim up every wall in the house. It didn't improve the disposition of the neighbors either.

He bribed her with a new coat. Okay, she said, put it in the bedroom until I get more proficient with rich music. It stood in a corner under an old quilt.

Uncle Tim would be sleeping when a string busted. He knew what they cost. "Woman," he would say in his low growl, "There goes another four bucks." Aunt Nora always replaced strings, even though the instrument never got out of the corner.

One night a string went with a stinging whine and Uncle Tim went off with it. "That," he said, quoting himself, "is that. The damn thing gets sold in the morning."

He was surprised to find that there aren't too many people pining away the years waiting to buy a harp. So he placed an advertisement in a music magazine: "One elegant harp. Hardly used. For sale $3,000."

This was a thousand more than he paid for it. Nora cried. She didn't want to sell it. "God," he muttered, "look what the damn thing did for you. You're still limping." Tim promised that if he could find a sucker to buy it, he'd get Nora a little car.

A few letters came in. One from Burlingame, Calif., asked for a picture of the harp. Tim had to go out and buy a camera. He made photos from all angles. The letter from the lady in California stated: "Just what I want. Am sending a bank check."

Tim got the check. He and Nora inched the big harp onto the elevator. A man squeezed on at another floor. He took one look at Nora, another at the harp, and stared at the ceiling.

The harp went to California. They buyer sent word that it had a big crack in it. She wanted her money back. Uncle Tim wrote that it didn't have a crack when Nora kissed it goodbye. The lady's husband was a lawyer.

Uncle Tim settled by returning a thousand dollars. Now he had exactly what he had paid for it. It made him so mad that he told Nora he couldn't buy her a car. How about a bicycle?

Aung Nora used her favorite phrase: "Ah, shaddup!" Scanlon completed the story as I was missing a final putt. I never believe anything he says . . .

Business World

NEW YORK (AP) — The question that arises immediately in connection with President Ford's proposed $28 billion tax cut is whether it is feasible, economically or politically.

Nearly three-quarters of budget expenditures are what has come to be termed uncontrollable. That is, because of laws and actions made in prior years, like it or not, the government is committed to spend those funds.

If, as the President said, spending seems headed toward $423 billion next year, a $28 billion cut would amount to a reduction of between 6 and 7 per cent, not merely of the one-quarter of the budget under control, but of the total budget.

Whether such an accomplishment is possible, especially in a politically volatile election year, is debatable at best. Rep. Brock Adams, D-Wash, chairman of the House Budget Committee, immediately called it unrealistic.

What are these "uncontrollables" that leave the President and Congress so few options in changing the course of federal spending? The biggest by far are expenditures for Social Security and railroad retirement, accounting for roughly one-third.

Smaller in percentage, but so numerous as to underscore the point, are a basketful of other expenditures, including unemployment assistance, veterans benefits, medicare and medicaid, housing aid, revenue sharing.

Of growing importance is interest on the national debt, which amounted to "only" $10.3 billion as recently as fiscal 1967 but which had risen to $22 billion in fiscal 1975, the result of more borrowing and higher interest rates.

The President's hope that both taxes and government expenditures can be cut simultaneously is consistent with the economic and political philosophy he has espoused since he took office — and before.

In his view, a growing federal establishment threatens to drain away the prosperity and vitality of America, "as one big spending program after another has been piled on the federal pyramid ..."

The bureaucratic superstructure, he maintains, is "taking a larger share of your personal income and creating record budget deficits and inflation," while at the same time "trying to run too much of your daily life."

This is a very basic dispute that underlies almost every political and economic argument in the country today, and it has long been so. It is in the substratum of the American psyche, sometimes quiescent, sometimes boiling.

The President, it now seems, believes the underground rumblings must be quieted or the pyramid, like a volcano, might blow its head. It seems to be his hope that he can seal it off before that happens.

However, a look at some comparative statistics suggest the situation might not exist or be resolved at the federal level alone. The biggest percentage increases in government spending in recent years have been at city and state levels.

Part of this might be due to increases in revenue distribution, or aid from federal government receipts, but not entirely.

The Tax Foundation, which describes itself as a nonpartisan, nonprofit research and educational organization, shows that in recent years per capita Federal expenditures have fallen slightly in percentage while state spending has tended higher.

In almost any statistical breakdown of governmental spending, whether at local, state or federal level, the fact that steps out of the number in bold relief is that debt is rising at all levels of government.

This suggests, of course, that Americans seem to be expecting more from their governments than they are willing or able to pay for. No problem seems too big to be overcome, but the expense seems to be.

Turning back the growing demand for governmental services will be difficult, politically and economically, because it pits two basic but opposing American views about government that have existed since the Revolution.

Ford seems to be attacking not just the amount of federal spending and the spread of federal control, but a notion he fears might also become ingrained in the American spirit — that bills are indefinitely postponeable, and that meanwhile you can get something for nothing.

An old custom was revived when Pumpkin Show officials announced they would use the pumpkin pyramid absent since 1947 at the upcoming festival.

Circleville's first four-way stop street intersection was put into effect at Scioto and Mill Sts.

Circleville's "boneyard" was to be sold to the highest bidder. The three and three-fourths acre tract of land located on Island Road, near Red Bridge, so called because it had been used by local residents as a burial place for dead animals prior to use by local rendering firms.

Unemployment claims in Pickaway County reached a total of 67.

The first victim in the war against drunken driving in Pickaway County was fined $25, sentenced to 10 days in jail and had his driving privileges suspended for 15 years. The court made it perfectly clear that there would not be any suspensions on any of the fines in this case or any other drunken driving case.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My uncle was taken to the hospital and is being treated for "left heart failure." What does this mean?

Miss U. B., Mo.

Dear Miss B.:

I can understand your confusion. You probably assume that there is both a left heart and a right heart.

Actually, these are terms that have special meaning to doctors only. They refer to the two sides of the heart.

The heart has four chambers, with two auricles and two ventricles. There is one auricle and one ventricle on each side of the heart.

Blood that circulates through the body, bringing vital oxygen to all its parts, is then returned to the "right heart." The "right heart" muscle now pumps this blood into the lungs to reaccumulate more oxygen.

Then the newly oxygenated blood enters the chambers of the "left heart," which again pumps the blood to all the distant parts of the body.

"Left heart failure" simply means that the muscle of the left side of the heart, or ventricle, is not strong enough to adequately pump blood.

This results in a damming back of the blood and interfence with proper circulation.

I thought that spinal anesthesia is no longer used. Wasn't this given up because it was dangerous?

Mr. T. K., La.

Dear Mr. K.:

Spinal anesthesia is still used for many operations below the waist.

Many surgeons prefer spinal anesthesia to general anesthesia for operations on the bladder, the prostate, for hernias, and for hemorrhoids.

Spinal anesthesia, known as "epidural and caudal block," is also used as a local anesthetic for patients who are considered high risks for general anesthesia.

It is remarkably safe and effective. It is not dangerous.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH . . . Bad posture must be corrected early. Long-lasting effects on the body structure can thus be avoided.

Lebanese Fighting Flares Up Again

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Machine-gun fighting broke out again today between the predominantly Moslem port city of Tripoli and the Christian town of Zagarta in north Lebanon, telephone reports said.

Witnesses said the exchange at one point involved Palestinian guerrillas in the refugee camp of Baddawi who lobbed three mortar shells at olive groves where fighters from Zagarta set up their advance lines.

Four persons including two soldiers were reported injured in the fighting which still was reported under way two hours after the initial outbreak at midday.

Sporadic shooting also revived in two Beirut suburbs — the Moslem Shiite district of Chiyah and the Maronite Christian area of Ein Rummaneh. A police spokesman said one woman had been killed and three men wounded in the past 24 hours. Snipers kept roads in the two areas closed.

Both sides have accused each other of failing to comply with a demilitarization accord that called for dismantling street barricades and withdrawal of all armed men from Chiyah and Ein Rummaneh.

Army forces have been manning buffer zones between Tripoli, home town of Premier Rashid Karami, a Moslem, and Zagarta, home town of President Suleiman Franjieh, a Christian.

The reports said the guerrilla leadership and senior army officers in the north were trying to negotiate a cease-fire and arranging for an exchange of abducted persons between the two sides.

The new tension in Beirut and the north raised fears that another round of widespread sectarian fighting may break out after the current Eid El Fitr holiday which ends the Moslem month of fasting, known as Ramadan.

About 6,000 persons have been killed and 18,000 injured in five rounds of religious warfare since April. A 10-day battle last month in Tripoli and Zagarta took more than 400 lives and wounded 1,000 persons.

Progress In Forestry Talks Made

VICTORIA, B.C. (AP) — Government-initiated talks aimed at settling the British Columbia forest industry dispute entered their fourth week today, and one union official says progress was being made.

Earl Foxcroft, president of the International Woodworkers of America Eastern Vancouver Island Local, said that if the mood of Monday's talks carries into subsequent meetings, the two sides could be on the way to a tentative settlement.

Foxcroft declined, however, to elaborate on what progress has been made, or how long he expects it to take before a settlement is reached.

Negotiators for the IWA were considering an undisclosed company proposal made Monday that is believed to deal, at least indirectly, with the issue of the three-year strike at Canadian Forest Product's Huntting-Merritt shingle mill in Vancouver.

The Huntting-Merritt dispute, which the union insists cannot be discussed by the coast negotiating committee, was a major stumbling block in mediation talks last week.

Jack Munro, regional IWA president, met Monday with Labor Minister Bill King and said later the minister impressed on him the significance of the dispute. There are 35,000 IWA members involved in the dispute.

The 13,000 members of the Canadian Paperworkers Union and the P9lp, Paper and Woodworkers of Canada went on strike July 16 and their pickets as well as economic problems have resulted in the shutdown of about 90 per cent of the province's forest industry.

Ohio Senate Report

By OAKLEY C. COLLINS
17th District Senator

State Senator Oakley C. Collins (R-Ironton) reports this week that altogether there have been over seventy-five bills introduced thus far in the Legislature which would bring about some major election law changes if they are passed. Some of these bills are the subject of this report.

As of September 5 the state residency requirement for voters was reduced from six months to thirty days. The thirty day county and precinct residency requirements remain in effect. The uniform 30-day requirement was mandated by the United States Supreme Court.

House Bill 13, still before the House Ways and Means Committee, authorizes the designation of one dollar of annual income liability to be paid to the political party of the taxpayer's choice.

Under the provisions of this bill individual taxpayers with at least one dollar's worth of state income tax liability, or husbands and wives who file jointly and have at least two dollars of tax liability could make a political contribution through a check-off box on their state income tax return.

Such a contribution would not affect the taxpayer's tax liability, that is, there would be deduction or credit allowed for the gift. Therefore, the money, in essence, would be paid by the state from the state's general revenue fund to the state controlling committee of the appropriate political parties.

Two major problems exist in this particular approach to political financing. First, because there is no way of estimating how many Ohioans will take advantage of the contribution check-off, the effect on the state's revenues cannot be projected. Thus, another unknown variable would be thrown into the biennial budget-making process. Second, the bill limits check-off contributions to political parties as defined in the Revised Code, thereby discriminating against small minority parties. Political organizations whose candidate for governor or president fails to receive five per cent of the total vote cast are not legal political parties, according to the Revised Code, and therefore cannot benefit from the tax return check-off.

A similar approach offering a credit against state income tax liability is incorporated in House Bill 1065. This approach would, however, reduce a taxpayer's tax liability for political contributions made in person rather than through the state.

Current law requires voter registration in all cities with a population of sixteen thousand or more and provides that counties and smaller municipalities may adopt and maintain voter registration. House Bill 56 would make registration a universal voting requirement by directing the Board of Elections in every county to maintain registration files for the entire county.

Registration would become effective at the time of the first general election thereafter. An elector would have to be registered to vote, or sign a nominating, initiative, referendum, or recall petition.

There are presently 60 counties with county-wide registration, 6 with partial registration, and 22 with no registration.

The Revised Code also presently requires the Secretary of State to cast a tie-breaking vote should a county Board of Elections deadlock on whether or not to establish county-wide voter registration. Senate Bill 347, now before the Senate Elections, Financial Institutions, and Insurance Committee, would transfer this power to the Board of County Commissioners.

Two bills (Senate Bill 204 and Amended House Bill 719) now in committee would change the time in which an elector must vote to remain registered from two years to four years. At the end of every calendar year the registration of voters who have not voted in the two previous calendar years is automatically cancelled, at which time a notice of cancellation and application for reregistration are mailed. Reregistration is automatic if the application is filed within 30 days of cancellation and the signature matches that on the registration card.

In addition to extending the automatic registration period, Amended House Bill 719 changes the cancellation date from the end of every calendar year to between 60-120 days following each presidential election.

Amended House Bill 5, effective last July, authorizes Boards of Elections to appoint persons fluent in a non-English language as interpreters in election precincts where there is a substantial number of non-English speaking voters.

An interpreter can be a regular election official, but if not, receives normal election official training. Compensation is the same as other election officials.

Persons appointed as interpreters pursuant to this law may only provide to voters such assistance in the non-English language as may be provided by regular election officials in English. Attempting to influence an elector's vote is a misdemeanor in the first degree.

Election Law Loopholes Seen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The year-old Ohio Elections Commission wants to tighten up Ohio's campaign finance laws to reduce the possibility that the Ladies Aid Society might go to jail while unscrupulous politicians go free.

Nolan W. Carson, Cincinnati attorney and commission chairman, said that is a far fetched but technical possibility under ambiguities and loopholes in the present law.

The commission has unanimously recommended some wording changes in the law to the General Assembly. More changes will be recommended, he said.

The proposals result from a year's working experience with the present law, a period which covered the 1974 elections.

One proposal would exempt small groups from the requirement that they file a campaign finance report. Carson said that proposal resulted from an experience with a rural, smalltown women's club.

"They had a meeting and took up a collection," he said. "They got $12, and they contributed it to a candidate.

"That candidate's committee report showed a $12 contribution from this little club. The board of elections noted that the club had not filed a finance report and cited them for a violation.

"We got a very poignant letter saying they had learned their lesson," Carson said, "that they'd never again make a contribution to a political candidate.

"We're concerned that we're driving people away from participation," he said.

At the same time, he said, an apparent loophole allows politicans to accept large cash contributions although donors are criminally liable for making them.

Carson said that situation cropped up in Mansfield with a dentist who gave $300 cash to a mayoralty candidate.

He said in that case, the candidate returned the money when the $100 limit was pointed out by the commission.

But technically, he said, the candidate apparently could have legally kept the money, leaving the dentist open to criminal prosecution for making the contribution.

Carson said the commission would like to see both the contributor and candidate held liable in such cases.

The commission also is asking a 30-day "dead" period before elections during which it will not investigate or decide on complaints of unethical campaigning.

He said that would prevent a candidate from using the commission's quasijudicial proceedings as a forum for smear charges in the closing days of the campaign.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — David C. Sweet, a member of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio, has been named to serve on the Federal Energy Administration's Transportation Advisory Committee, it was announced Tuesday.

The 26-member committee advises the FEA on programs which affect transportation problems. It will make recommendations regarding an effective national policy for the use of energy in transportation, specifically in the area of petroleum resources conservation.

Ohio Senate Report

By OAKLEY C. COLLINS
17th District Senator

State Senator Oakley C. Collins (R-Ironton) reports this week that altogether there have been over seventy-five bills introduced thus far in the Legislature which would bring about some major election law changes if they are passed. Some of these bills are the subject of this report.

As of September 5 the state residency requirement for voters was reduced from six months to thirty days. The thirty day county and precinct residency requirements remain in effect. The uniform 30-day requirement was mandated by the United States Supreme Court.

House Bill 13, still before the House Ways and Means Committee, authorizes the designation of one dollar of annual income liability to be paid to the political party of the taxpayer's choice.

Under the provisions of this bill individual taxpayers with at least one dollar's worth of state income tax liability, or husbands and wives who file jointly and have at least two dollars of tax liability could make a political contribution through a check-off box on their state income tax return.

Such a contribution would not affect the taxpayer's tax liability, that is, there would be deduction or credit allowed for the gift. Therefore, the money, in essence, would be paid by the state from the state's general revenue fund to the state controlling committee of the appropriate political parties.

Two major problems exist in this particular approach to political financing. First, because there is no way of estimating how many Ohioans will take advantage of the contribution check-off, the effect on the state's revenues cannot be projected. Thus, another unknown variable would be thrown into the biennial budget-making process. Second, the bill limits check-off contributions to political parties as defined in the Revised Code, thereby discriminating against small minority parties. Political organizations whose candidate for governor or president fails to receive five per cent of the total vote cast are not legal political parties, according to the Revised Code, and therefore cannot benefit from the tax return check-off.

A similar approach offering a credit against state income tax liability is incorporated in House Bill 1065. This approach would, however, reduce a taxpayer's tax liability for political contributions made in person rather than through the state.

Current law requires voter registration in all cities with a population of sixteen thousand or more and provides that counties and smaller municipalities may adopt and maintain voter registration. House Bill 56 would make registration a universal voting requirement by directing the Board of Elections in every county to maintain registration files for the entire county.

Registration would become effective at the time of the first general election thereafter. An elector would have to be registered to vote, or sign a nominating, initiative, referendum, or recall petition.

There are presently 60 counties with county-wide registration, 6 with partial registration, and 22 with no registration.

The Revised Code also presently requires the Secretary of State to cast a tie-breaking vote should a county Board of Elections deadlock on whether or not to establish county-wide voter registration. Senate Bill 347, now before the Senate Elections, Financial Institutions, and Insurance Committee, would transfer this power to the Board of County Commissioners.

Two bills (Senate Bill 204 and Amended House Bill 719) now in committee would change the time in which an elector must vote to remain registered from two years to four years. At the end of every calendar year the registration of voters who have not voted in the two previous calendar years is automatically cancelled, at which time a notice of cancellation and application for reregistration are mailed. Reregistration is automatic if the application is filed within 30 days of cancellation and the signature matches that on the registration card.

In addition to extending the automatic registration period, Amended House Bill 719 changes the cancellation date from the end of every calendar year to between 60-120 days following each presidential election.

Amended House Bill 5, effective last July, authorizes Boards of Elections to appoint persons fluent in a non-English language as interpreters in election precincts where there is a substantial number of non-English speaking voters.

An interpreter can be a regular election official, but if not, receives normal election official training. Compensation is the same as other election officials.

Persons appointed as interpreters pursuant to this law may only provide to voters such assistance in the non-English language as may be provided by regular election officials in English. Attempting to influence an elector's vote is a misdemeanor in the first degree.

Election Law Loopholes Seen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The year-old Ohio Elections Commission wants to tighten up Ohio's campaign finance laws to reduce the possibility that the Ladies Aid Society might go to jail while unscrupulous politicians go free.

Nolan W. Carson, Cincinnati attorney and commission chairman, said that is a far fetched but technical possibility under ambiguities and loopholes in the present law.

The commission has unanimously recommended some wording changes in the law to the General Assembly. More changes will be recommended, he said.

The proposals result from a year's working experience with the present law, a period which covered the 1974 elections.

One proposal would exempt small groups from the requirement that they file a campaign finance report. Carson said that proposal resulted from an experience with a rural, smalltown women's club.

"They had a meeting and took up a collection," he said. "They got $12, and they contributed it to a candidate.

"That candidate's committee report showed a $12 contribution from this little club. The board of elections noted that the club had not filed a finance report and cited them for a violation.

"We got a very poignant letter saying they had learned their lesson," Carson said, "that they'd never again make a contribution to a political candidate.

"We're concerned that we're driving people away from participation," he said.

At the same time, he said, an apparent loophole allows politicans to accept large cash contributions although donors are criminally liable for making them.

Carson said that situation cropped up in Mansfield with a dentist who gave $300 cash to a mayoralty candidate.

He said in that case, the candidate returned the money when the $100 limit was pointed out by the commission.

But technically, he said, the candidate apparently could have legally kept the money, leaving the dentist open to criminal prosecution for making the contribution.

Carson said the commission would like to see both the contributor and candidate held liable in such cases.

The commission also is asking a 30-day "dead" period before elections during which it will not investigate or decide on complaints of unethical campaigning.

He said that would prevent a candidate from using the commission's quasijudicial proceedings as a forum for smear charges in the closing days of the campaign.

Sweet Named To Committee

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — David C. Sweet, a member of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio, has been named to serve on the Federal Energy Administration's Transportation Advisory Committee, it was announced Tuesday.

The 26-member committee advises the FEA on programs which affect transportation problems. It will make recommendations regarding an effective national policy for the use of energy in transportation, specifically in the area of petroleum resources conservation.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

(Q.) I plan to use the State Sales Tax Tables to determine the sales tax deduction on my 1975 return. Do the tables include tax I paid on my new car?

(A.) No. If you use the Optional State Sales Tax Tables to calculate your deduction, you may add the sales tax paid on your car to the deduction amount shown in the tables. If the state sales tax rate on motor vehicles is higher than the general sales tax rate, that part of the tax paid equal to a tax imposed at the general sales tax rate is deductible. This sales tax provision applies also to the purchase of airplanes, boats, mobile homes, and the materials used to build a new home if you are your own contractor.

(Q.) When I left my old job I received a lump sum from my employer's pension plan. May I use the money to open an Individual Retirement Account (IRA)?

(A.) Yes. The taxable portion of your lump sum distribution may be transferred to an individual retirement savings account, even though you would not otherwise be eligible to establish one. However, the transfer of the money must be made within 60 days after receipt of the lump sum distribution.

The amount you may transfer tax free is the total amount of the distribution you received, less any contribution you, the employee have made.

(Q.) My son, a college student, receives a $2500 per year scholarship. This year I paid an additional $1800 for all his other living expenses. Since this $1800 appears to be less than half the money he has to live on, do I lose him as a dependent?

(A.) Any scholarship your child, stepchild, foster child or legally adopted child receives for study at an educational institution is not considered in determining his total support. Therefore, since the $1800 you paid is more than half your son's total support, without the scholarship, you may claim him as a dependent.

Set Hearing On Kidnap

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A federal court hearing on charges of kidnaping has been set Friday for a couple arrested in southern Ohio Sunday on charges of abducting a St. Albans, W. Va. man at gunpoint and driving him into Ohio in their car trunk.

Being held here are Charles R. Ritz, 26, of Charleston, W.Va., and Harriet Lilly, 28, of Castro Valley, Calif.

U.S. Magistrate Mark R. Abel set bond at $25,000 each.

The couple is accused of kidnaping John Rutherford, 18, at gunpoint at a St. Albans car wash. Rutherford said they told him they were taking him to California.

The car was stopped near Gallipolis by the state Highway Patrol on a speeding charge. A patrolman cited the woman, and Ritz left in the car to arrange bond.

The patrol said Ritz ran into a ditch a short time later and when an officer was citing him for driving while intoxicated he heard noises in the trunk and found Rutherford.

Young Girl Gives Dad 'Kiss Of Life'

VENTNOR, N.J. (AP) — Thirteen-year-old Lyn Kraft learned in health class how to give "the kiss of life" to a plastic doll. That same night she used what she had learned to revive her 50-year-old father after he suffered a heart attack and stopped breathing.

Leonard Kraft is now recuperating in the Atlantic City Medical Center, and Lyn is the toast of her eighth grade class at Ventnor Middle School in this Atlantic shore community.

It was after midnight last Thursday when the 5-foot-7, 165-pound Kraft suffered the second heart attack of his life.

"He stopped breathing and turned a purple-gray color. I ran and called the ambulance and woke up my daughter," Lyn's mother, Sandy, said.

Lyn, a 5-foot, 89-pounder, said her mother was "very excited.

"I said I knew what to do, and she said to do it. I didn't have any time to pause. I just did it right there. It was just a reaction."

Lyn followed the method for cardiopulmonary respiration that school nurse Marie Paludi had been teaching in class for two weeks.

She gave four quick breaths into her father's mouth, holding his nose and leaning his head back to open the air passages. Then she gave 15 heart compressions, with palms down and fingertips up, in the middle of his chest, then two more deep breaths slowly, waiting for the chest to deflate.

"My sister, Sindy, helped me. She told me I was going too fast with the compressions," said Lyn, the youngest of four children.

Sindy, 17, and Mrs. Kraft were the only other family members at home.

Lyn continued the cycle of two breaths and 15 compressions for five minutes until an ambulance crew arrived and administered oxygen to her father, who was already breathing again.

"His color came back" as soon as Lyn began to work, Mrs. Kraft said. "I really believe it saved his life."

Lyn continued the cycle of two breaths and 15 compressions for five minutes until an ambulance crew arrived and administered oxygen to her father, who was already breathing again.

"His color came back" as soon as Lyn began to work, Mrs. Kraft said. "I really believe it saved his life."

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Adoption Includes Privacy

DEAR ABBY: I recently saw a TV program that really shook me up. A 30-year-old wife and mother who had always known that she was adopted decided to try to locate her "real" parents.

With the help of a lawyer, she was successful in finding her "real" father. (Her mother had died.) Although the young woman was certain that she had found her natural father and the man at first confirmed that he was, he later denied it.

Abby, I was an unwed mother at the age of 15. I gave my infant girl up for adoption and later married a fine man with whom I had four children. I told him about my illegitimate child, but our children don't know it and neither do any of his relatives-which is the way I want it.

I think it's grossly unfair for an adopted person to go looking for his (or her) natural parents. The couple who raised my firstborn are her "real" parents.

In some states, when an adopted person reaches legal age, he has the right to know who his natural parents are. But what about MY right to privacy?

NAMELESS IN CHICAGO

DEAR NAMELESS: I agree with you. But for another point of view on that subject, read on:

DEAR ABBY: I have always known that I was adopted. I am now 17 and know that when I become "of age", I can demand that my file be opened to me so I can know who my natural parents are.

Abby, I have absolutely no desire to locate them. They gave me up because they felt it would be better for me and possibly for them too.

The parents who took me when I was 1-week-old, raised me and gave me their love and all the material things they could afford are my "real" parents. No other parents could be more real to me.

I am not saying that I have never wondered what my natural parents are like, but I can say that my curiosity is not so great that I would risk hurting the parents to whom I owe so much.

NOT LOOKING IN SEATTLE

DEAR ABBY: My husband has always been a very selfish man, but the other day he topped himself when he carried on like a crazy man because I had cut three roses from his rosebushes. The rosebushes have loads of buds on them, and I can't see that I did them any harm.

My husband claims that roses should not be picked in the first year. I always thought that rosebushes produced bigger and more abundant blooms after the flowers were plucked. Who's right?

If my husband is right, I'll keep my bloomin' hands off his blooms.

N.

DEAR N.: Picking roses off the bush the first year will not effect the health of the rosebush. But it might not be too healthy for your marriage.

Pickaway Fire Department Visits School

Members of the Pickaway Township Fire Department visited the McDowell Exchange School kindergarten classes, Oct. 1, getting an early start on Fire Prevention Week activities.

Fire Chief Robert Bell and Captain Gary Groce demonstrated the operations of the fire department's pumper truck. A small fire was extinguished with various hoses and foam extinguishing agents.

The children were delighted with the sights and sounds of the truck's flashing lights and siren. Captain Groce put on the air pack breathing apparatus and full fire fighting gear. This was to give the children an idea of what a fireman would look like when he would enter a burning house. Many children are frightened by the sight and will hide from the firemen.

On October 3, Chief Bell, Captain Groce and Lieutenant Lewis Jordan went to Logan Elm High School. The men used the ladders on the trucks to repair the rope on the school's flag pole. The rope had been damaged by vandals and the school had been unable to find anyone with ladders high enough to fix it.

The department will continue its activities through the week with a visit to the Pickaway Township School.

Candidates for the Teays Valley School Board will be guests for the open house to be held by Walnut Twp. School's Parent-Teacher Organization 7:30 p.m. Monday at the school.

Kidnapers Offered Deal By Dutch

LIMERICK, Ireland (AP) — A Dutch firm is offering to fly the kidnapers of one of its executives out of Ireland in a company jet if they agree to release him unharmed for a ransom.

But official sources said the government is reluctant to approve such a move even if the kidnapers accept the offer to free Tiede Herrema, 53-year-old head of the Ferenka steel plant in Limerick.

Herrema was kidnaped Friday and threatened with death unless three members of the Provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army were freed from prison. The government refused to meet the demands.

The dragnet for Herrema intensified as hundreds more police and troops with helicopters joined the hunt. The IRA, which has condemned the kidnaping, also is hunting for the kidnapers, presumably to kill them for discrediting the movement.

The target of the dragnet is Eddie Gallagher, a former Provisional expelled by the IRA when he challenged guerrilla leaders following his escape from a top security prison last year.

He is believed to be the common-law husband of Rose Dugdale, one of the prisoners whose release the kidnapers demanded. He is also believed to be the father of her son, Ruari, born 10 months ago in Limerick Prison.

The baby was reported to have been moved to a hideout outside Dublin on Tuesday after a mystery group threatened to execute relatives of the three IRA prisoners named by the kidnap gang. In addition to Miss Dugdale, the prisoners are Kevin Mallon and Jim Hyland.

Spokesmen for Ferenka's Dutch parent company, Azko, said Tuesday that two telephone calls that Herrema's 26-year-old son Jelle claimed to have received from the gang saying the businessman was alive were hoaxes.

It said young Herrema misconstrued the calls because he was "very tired and virtually dreaming" after a sleepless vigil.

A government source said if Herrema is dead, "it would be one of the most extreme threats yet made to the stability of the state. Obviously action would have to be taken."

The government fears the kidnap, and possible death, of a prominent foreign businessman will scare off much-needed investment from abroad, could trigger a rash of abductions and pose a serious threat to its authority.

Government action against the IRA so far has been selective, but a major anti-IRA operation could mean the roundup of hundreds of sympathizers. The IRA seeks the union of Northern Ireland with the Irish Republic.

Devine Dissents

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Rep. Samuel Devine was the dissenting member of Ohio's congressional delegation when the House voted 297-18 Tuesday to override President Ford's veto of the nutrition bill.

In the Senate, both Ohio Sens. Robert Taft Jr., a Republican, and John Glenn, a Democrat, voted with the majority, which favored overriding 79-13.

Community Social Services Have Programs On Health

By MARION SINES
Herald Staff Writer

Health, physical and mental, was the topic of speakers for the Tuesday luncheon meeting of Community County Social Service Units in the Parish House of St. Philip's Episcopal Church.

Vera Saunders gave the invocation and announced that a slate of officers is to be presented by the nominating committee at the next meeting. Nominations may be made from the floor at that time and the election will be conducted.

Leona Riegel introduced Leo Kahanek, Department Supervisor for Pickaway County Health Department. Kahanek said that meetings where discussions are held and differences of opinions are aired is helpful to everyone interested in solving problems of any kind.

He commended county nurses, Carlene Francis, Linda Davis and Sarah Baehr, for their work in the county and said there is the will, resources and the people, but money is needed to expand the service to more people.

Kahanek said the first Welfare Department in Ohio was formed in 1834 and the Health Department establishment was a result of the flu epidemic in 1919 when thousands of people died.

Kahaneck said that professionalism is the basic aim in the Health Department for the future. The department is financed by the county which it feels is better than state or federal assistance.

At the present time county school children through grade six are being cared for. Circleville Schools have a nurse but the county schools cannot afford one for each building. The County Department provides immunization shots free to anyone and plans are being studied for assistance to senior citizens who find it difficult and sometimes impossible to leave their homes for needed shots and other treatment.

Kahanek answered questions and then introduced Ray Roberts from the Ohio Department of Mental Health. His work is placing children ages 6 through 17, with mental problems, in homes where the child can be helped. He said there are none of these children in Pickaway County Homes but in the other four counties he works in, which are Fayette, Highland, Hocking and Ross he has made placements.

Roberts said that sometimes a child must be placed in another home where he can get a different look at his own problems. During a question and answer period it was agreed that a place is greatly needed where a family can place a child for a period of a weekend or longer so the family may go on a needed vacation which they cannot do because of the problem child.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 4 at the same location. The date was changed because of Veteran's Day.

Drug Crackdown Arrests Started

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Police Tuesday began arresting 53 persons named in Franklin County grand jury indictments as part of what Police Chief Earl Burton described as one of the biggest crackdowns on heroin traffic for any city this size.

The indictments were handed down Monday as a result of a special police investigation begun last May, officials said.

Lt. Dwight Joseph said all of those indicted have been involved in direct drug sales to undercover police officers. Among them, he said, are 12 persons police believe control practically all of the estimated $65 million annual heroin traffic in Columbus.

Trotwood School Struck

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Teachers at the suburban Trotwood School District struck today, exactly one week after they ended an earlier two-day strike and returned to their classes.

A spokesman for the teachers said today's strike was triggered by the inability to reach agreement with school officials on details of a new salary schedule.

The schedule was the one issue left unresolved after teachers ended their first strike. Teachers and school officials at that time agreed on a starting salary for new teachers, but left other details of the salary schedule to be worked out.

The earlier strike began Sept. 29 and ended last Wednesday.

Today's strike marked the third time since school began that classes have been disrupted. Classes were also suspended several days in September because of racial tension.

The system has about 5,000 students and 243 teachers.

So easy to handle ... because this shampooer has exclusive straight line power stroke. Hugs the carpet, eliminates digging in or "skating" out of control.

Research, Development Serves Right Hand To Murphy Customers

G. C. Murphy Company, which officially opens its new Murphy's Mart in Circleville Thursday, maintains an extensive Research and Development Department in its home city of McKeesport, Pa. One of the primary aims of personnel in this department is to help implement Murphy's Three Fundamentals of Community Serivce.

These fundamentals are: 1. have what the people want; 2. let them know you have what they want; 3. organize to service customers quickly, courteously and satisfactorily.

Presenting to shoppers the merchandise they want at the right price is a primary aim. Aiding in this endeavor is the Consumer Opinion Panel, a Research and Development project.

Basically, the panel is a volunteer group chosen on a highly selective basis to portray the average Murphy customer. This "blue ribbon jury" is composed of over 500 families located in all 24 states and the District of Columbia where the company operates.

Home testing merchandise and rendering its honest opinion, the Panel has proven invaluable to the Company in its attempt to offer communities the merchandise they want.

Customers also want satisfaction with merchandise they purchase. Every Murphy customer is guaranteed unqualified satisfaction with every purchase. As one factor in providing such a guarantee, the G. C. Murphy Company has maintained for 36 years a fully-equipped testing laboratory at its McKeesport base. This facility has also helped Murphy in the development of an extensive line of its "own brand name" merchandise. Each item carrying a Murphy brand represents the tops in value.

It is recognized by Murphy's that having quality items which the customer wants is only part of community service. Making the customer aware of the availability of the wanted item is also required. R and D is continually searching out ways to better communicate with the customer. One area of primary interest is communication via the merchandise package. Facts about the item's construction, its unique characteristics and the care and treatment necessary for top service are given to the customer via an attractively designed, informative and easily opened package.

In looking for ways to give the best in customer service, the Consumer Opinion Panel is frequently polled. In this manner, the customer's wants in the area of service can be brought to light and actions are designed to fulfill these wants.

Adhering to their Three Fundamentals of Community Service, G. C. Murphy Company and its Research and Development organization are constantly striving to give customers the top value in items they want at the lowest possible prices along with the best in customer service.

Murphy's Mart features a complete auto accessory, auto stereo, tire and service center which contains about 1000 square-feet of selling space for accessories and approximately 1600 square-feet in the four-bay automotive service area.

The department will employ about eight people in addition to a highly qualified manager. Murphy officials explained that the auto center is much broader in merchandise scope than the usual accessories store, carrying more than 1500 items in full stock at all times.

The four large service department bays are designed for customer drive-in service. Available here are tire and battery service, complete brake service, wheel alignment and balancing, shock absorber, muffler and tail pipe installation. Other services include oil changing, air-conditioning installation and service, and radio and stereo installation.

H. P. Rumbaugh, general manager of the Murphy's Mart, states that many recent improvements have been made in car service equipment and techniques, and the mart's service center is equipped with the most advanced type of mechanical service facilities on the market.

The service staff consists of qualified mechanics who have been factory trained in the use of new equipment and in new service methods.

The center will offer top quality, nationally advertised car parts and accessories at competitive prices. The tire department will feature a full line of tires in all grades and sizes, including tires for most sport cars and commercial vehicles.

The Murphy's Mart will contain a modern and attractive restaurant with seating capacity for 46 persons.

This facility is enclosed with a 36-inch high decorative partition and is otherwise open to the store sales area. Stainless steel restaurant equipment with the latest sanitary features and service innovations will enable the staff to efficiently serve high quality food.

A wide variety of breakfast, luncheon and dinner menus is available and, in addition to hot meals, the restaurant will offer snacks, tasty sandwiches, sodas, sundaes and other appetizing desserts.

The Murphy's Mart also features a Snack Bar located near the front entrance. For those who like to eat quickly and shop, this food facility features various snack items including hot dogs, hoagies, pretzels, pop corn, soft ice cream and soft drinks.

Delicatessen items such as cold cuts and cheese will also be sold in this area.

Reagan Says Administration Out Of Touch

CLEVELAND (AP)—Former California Gov. Ronald Reagan criticized the federal government Tuesday for being out of touch with the rest of the country and called for a transfer of power from Washington to the states.

Reagan, who spoke before 1,000 persons in the Cleveland suburb of Shaker Heights, said he has made no decision on his candidacy for the Republican party nomination next year. But campaign assistants said he will make an announcement next month. Reagan already has welcomed the formation of a New Hampshire campaign commitee for the primary there.

"What I propose is nothing less than a systematic transfer of authority and resources to the states—a program of creative federalism for America's third century," he said.

Federal authority has clearly failed to do the job, Indeed, it has created more problems in welfare, education, housing, food stamps, Medicaid, community development and revenue sharing, to name a few," he said.

Depicting Washington as becoming alienated from the rest of the country, Reagan said the time is right to reverse the flow of power to Washington.

Reagan agreed with Ford's decision to cut taxes, but said the President had not gone far enough in cutting federal spending.

He said the 300,000 employes who leave the federal payroll each year shouldn't be replaced.

SAUSAGE IS A UNIQUE MEAT PRODUCT

The need to preserve meat led to the development of sausage, a tasty combination of meat and spices that helped retard meat spoilage.

Custom and availability of ingredients were factors in the development of specific kinds of sausage. Some of the more popular sausages we enjoy today came from towns vying with each other to produce sausage specialties.

Sausage in America began with the Indians who made dry sausage cakes from beef and berries. Immigrants from Europe brought their own traditions of sausage making with them.

Sausage contains most of the nutrients found in all meats including protein, the B vitamins, iron, copper and phosphorus. Federal and state inspections and strict quality control by sausage producers insures a wholesome product.

Americans can choose from more than 200 varieties of sausage. Smoked sausage Polish kielbasa, knockwurst and bratwurst are being featured in our meat department.

All except bratwurst are smoked products. Bratwurst is a fresh meat product that is seasoned. Although all of these are pre-cooked, some may require further cooking before eating. Check package directions before serving.

Bratwurst and beer is an old German specialty. In this recipe, the bratwurst is steamed in beer before broiling. Other types of sausages can also be prepared this way.

BRATWURST AND BEER

1 lb. Bratwurst (6 to 8) or Smoked Sausage
12 oz. Beer
1 Medium Onion, Sliced
1 Tsp. Celery Seed (Optional)
1 Bay Leaf (Optional)
1 Tblsp. Butter Or Margarine

In a saucepan, heat bratwurst, beer, onion, celery seed and bay leaf until just about boiling. Reduce heat, cover and simmer gently five minutes. Remove from heat and let stand until ready to grill or broil. Before grilling, drain liquid, reserving bratwurst and onion. Broil or grill bratwurst three or four inches from the heat, about five minutes on each side. To serve onions, cook in butter until tender. Serve with the bratwurst. This recipe makes four to five servings.

Bratwurst and beer is an old German specialty. In this recipe, the bratwurst is steamed in beer before broiling. Other types of sausages can also be prepared this way.

BRATWURST AND BEER

1 lb. Bratwurst (6 to 8) or Smoked Sausage
12 oz. Beer
1 Medium Onion, Sliced
1 Tsp. Celery Seed (Optional)
1 Bay Leaf (Optional)
1 Tblsp. Butter Or Margarine

In a saucepan, heat bratwurst, beer, onion, celery seed and bay leaf until just about boiling. Reduce heat, cover and simmer gently five minutes. Remove from heat and let stand until ready to grill or broil. Before grilling, drain liquid, reserving bratwurst and onion. Broil or grill bratwurst three or four inches from the heat, about five minutes on each side. To serve onions, cook in butter until tender. Serve with the bratwurst. This recipe makes four to five servings.

Meet The Vikings

Bill Dowell (34), Duane Keller (10) and Mike Fisher (22) are sophomore members of the Teays Valley Vikings football team. Bill is the son of Mrs. E. Dowell, Route 2, Ashville. Duane is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marv Keller, 73 East St., Ashville. Mike is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fisher, Lockbourne.

County Gridders Face Big Games

It will be crucial league action for all three county schools Friday night when Westfall travels to Zane Trace in a Scioto Valley Conference tilt, Logan Elm hosts Canal Winchester in the big one in the Mid-State and Teays Valley is home with Marysville in a Metropolitan League clash.

Coach John Glanton and his 5-0 Mustangs will tangle with the Pioneers who are 1-3.

Zane Trace will throw the ball as their chief offensive weapon with quarterback Don Clever doing the damage.

The Mustangs will counter with their running game paced by All-SVC player of the year John Long. For the first time in a long while the Mustangs are healthy which could be a bad omen for Zane Trace.

The starting offense for Westfall will be: Roger Johnson, center; Tim Lett at one guard and John Graffis and Carl Strittmatter alternating at the other; Randy Hildenbrand and Mike Weidinger, tackles; Eric Schleich and John Roberts, ends; Rick Stillings, quarterback; John Long, tailback; Eddie Myers, fullback, Bill Evans, wingback; when Tony Simon comes in at tailback, Long will move into the fullback slot.

On defense it will be: Tim Lett, middle guard; Randy Hildenbrand and Terry Williams, tackles; Weidinger and Dave Rowland, ends; Eric Schleich and Long, linebackers; Randy Adams, monster man; Bill Evans, halfback; Darren Metzger, safety; Eddie Myers, short side halfback.

Logan Elm, 3-2, will unleash their new offense as coach Perry Griffith and his Braves tangle with the No. 2 state ranked Indians who are 5-0 for the season.

Both teams are basically running teams and have been picking up 300 yards plus per game. Canal Winchester will have a size advantage but overall team speed will be about equal.

Griffith and Crist are the chief ground gainers for the Indians while Jeff Reichelderfer has really been eating up the turf for Logan Elm.

Logan Elm starters will be: Bruce DeBruin, center; Bruce Landis and Seth Dreisbach, guards; Mark Kennedy and Dave Dean, tackles; Jerry Scanlan and Rock Huggins, ends; Bob Sargent, quarterback; Steve Rawlins, fullback; Jeff Reichelderfer, halfback; Wayne Linthicum, wingback.

Defensively, it will be: Landis and Kennedy, guards; Dean and Pat Williams, tackles; Rawlins and Huggins, ends; Reichelderfer and Scanlan, linebackers; Scott Allen, safety; Jeff Hamler and Dave Calton, cornerbacks.

Coach Dick Kidwell and his Teays Valley gridders, 1-4, will be out to get back on the winning trail against a strong Marysville team, 3-1-1.

Marysville has a veteran team with 25 returning lettermen and 12 starters to operate a balanced attack with Dan Fanin and Jim Woodson being the primary rushers.

The Vikings offensive unit will be: Jim Baxter, center; Mike Siriano and Lance Roese, guards; Mike DeFice and Scott Rader, tackles; Joe Berger and Brad Sherman, ends; Greg Cline, quarterback; Lloyd Windon, wingback; Craig Ramey, fullback; Ron Foreman, halfback.

When the Blue and Gold move to defense, it will be: Roger Struckman, middle guard; Bill Toole and John Vasco, tackles; Mike Wilson and Jim Baxter, ends; Jim Henderly and Jim Orr, linebackers; Lance Roese, monster man; Lance Windon, halfback; Duane Keller, safety; Brad Stuthard, cornerback.

Bosox Top A's In AL

OAKLAND (AP) — Boston's Red Sox, inspired by the play of 36-year-old Carl Yastrzemski, fly the American League pennant today after destroying the Oakland dream of four straight titles.

"It's a very strange feeling," admitted the A's volatile owner Charles O. Finley. "But you can't win them all."

Boston, with a 5-3 victory Tuesday night, swept the best-of-five playoffs in three straight and now return home to open the World Series Saturday against the National League's Cincinnati Reds.

"We've won during the season on defense, and that defense won it for us in this series," declared Yastrzemski whose fielding gem in the eighth inning was the turning point of the final game.

Yaz made a diving stop of a drive by Reggie Jackson and held him to a single instead of a double or a triple. One run did score on the play but Sal Bando was stopped at third and the next batter, Joe Rudi, hit into an inning-ending double play.

Sharing the credit was relief pitcher Dick Drago, who threw a fast sinker that Rudi hit on the ground.

In the three games, Boston outhit the A's 31-19 and five of the Oakland starters, Campy Campaneris, Billy North, Billy Williams, Gene Tenace and Phil Garner, didn't get a hit all series.

"They just outplayed us," admitted losing Manager Alvin Dark who piloted the A's to the World Series crown in 1974 after Dick Williams left the helm after winning in 1972 and 1973.

Southpaw pitcher Ken Holtzman tried to go on two days rest after his own defense let him down in the first game that was lost by a 7-1 count.

"It just wasn't there," he said. "I was stiff."

Boston scored an unearned run in the fourth inning to break the scoreless duel between Holtzman and winning pitcher Rick Wise.

The Red Sox added three more in the fifth on hits by Rick Burleson, Denny Doyle, Yastrzemski and Carlton Fisk plus a wild pitch. Cecil Cooper drove in the finale in the eighth.

Cesar Tovar walked as a pinch hitter in the sixth for Oakland and eventually scored on a ground out after Claudell Washington singled him to third. Two more runs scored in the eighth before Yaz and reliever Drago chopped off the rally.

For the series Yaz collected five hits, including a home run. During the season he had played primarily at first base, returning to his old familiar left field when Jim Rice was hurt.

No one was saying much about the coming series against Cincinnati, but Manager Darrell Johnson admitted he probably would start ace righthander Luis Tiant in Saturday's opening game at Fenway Park.

Also, shortstop Burleson said the fact that the opening two games of the just-concluded playoffs were at Fenway had been a big aid.

"I hope it will be the same in the World Series," Burleson said of the venerable stadium with its short left field wall.

Reds Grab Crown

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds left here with the National League title, a yearning for their first World Series victory since 1940, and a mighty compliment from Al Oliver of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"They'll go all the way. They definitely have the best team I've seen since I've been in major league baseball," said Oliver, whose eighth season ended Tuesday night when the Reds beat Pittsburgh 5-3 in 10 innings in the National League playoffs.

The Reds swept the series in three games even though Pirate rookie John Candelaria pitched superbly Tuesday night, matching a playoff record with 14 strikeouts.

"This is the happiest day of my life," said Reds' Manager Sparky Anderson, whose club opens the World Series Saturday in Boston against the American League-winning Red Sox.

The Reds dealt Pittsburgh its final defeat about a half hour after the Red Sox swept Oakland in the AL playoff.

"I'm ready to play in Fenway Park," said Cincinnati's Pete Rose, who provided the key spark in the title-clincher.

It was Rose who belted a two-run homer that helped chase Candelaria in the eighth and gave Cincinnati a 3-2 lead. Then after the Pirates pulled to a 3-3 tie with a run in their frantic ninth, Rose helped the Reds deliver their two-run-knockout punch in the 10th.

"I never thought it would end in three," insisted Anderson. "I always thought it would go five games, just like I said at the start."

For a while, it looked like the 21-year-old Candelaria would give the Pirates the reprieve they needed after two convincing losses in Cincinnati.

"Candelaria was revved up and ready to go," said Joe Morgan of the Reds.

"It was probably the greatest performance by a lefty against us all year," said Rose.

Candelaria started with a flourish, striking out the first four batters he faced.

Dave Concepcion stroked a solo homer over the left field wall in the second, but that was the lone hit allowed by Candelaria over the first seven innings.

Al Oliver belted a two-run homer for the Pirates in the sixth to give Pittsburgh a 2-1 lead off Cincinnati starter Gary Nolan.

"It felt great when Ollie hit that home run," Candelaria said after the game, maintaining his usual relaxed demeanor.

"But the feeling didn't last long," Candelaria added with a slight smile.

Candelaria's undoing began in the eighth—after he struck out Ken Griffey and Cesar Geronimo to raise his total to 14. That matched the previous playoff record set by Joe Coleman of Detroit against Oakland in 1972.

But Candelaria then walked pinch-hitter Merv Rettenmund on four pitches, and Rose followed with his two-run homer that landed near a Pirate "Babushka Power" banner in the leftfield seats.

"That's why Pete Rose is the great ballplayer he is," said Pirate Manager Danny Murtaugh.

The Pirates loaded the bases in their ninth on singles by Willie Stargell and Richie Zisk and a walk to Bob Robertson.

Reliever Will McEnaney then yielded another walk to pinchhitter Duffy Dyer to force in the tying run, but Rennie Stennett flied out to center to end the inning.

The Reds put the game away with a 10th-inning push that began when Griffey beat out a two-strike bunt.

"We knew he might bunt with two strikes, but he just did a perfect job with it," said Murtaugh.

Griffey took second on a balk by Pirate reliever Ramon Hernandez, moved to third on an infield out and scored the winning run on a sacrifice fly by Ed Armbrister.

Rose followed with a single to right and scored the final Cincinnati run on a double by Morgan.

"Pete Rose is Pete Rose," said Sparky Anderson. "When the game loses him, I just don't think we'll see another one.

"Rose is something completely different. God never gifted him, but he is going to be a Hall of Famer on the first ballot."

Cincinnati reliever Pedro Borbon retired Richie Hebner, Oliver and Willie Stargell in the 10th to give the Reds their third league title in six years.

"It's a shame this has to come to a stop," said Stargell, "but we look forward to meeting them again, and we wish them the best in the Series."

Walt Luckett Waived By Detroit Pistons

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Walter Luckett, the leading scorer in the Mid-American Conference the last two seasons, has been waived by the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association.

He averaged more than 23 points and more than 25 points in his last two college seasons.

Tiger Linksmen Continue Winning Ways In Tri Match

Keith Sanders and Mike McKelvey shared medalist honors with 37s as the Circleville golf team downed Chillicothe and Grandview in a tri match Tuesday at Pickaway Country Club.

Sanders had five pars and two birds while McKelvey carded three pars and two birds. Mike McCoy fired six pars for a 39, Mike Hamilton had 44 and Dave DeFrank tallied 45.

Circleville had a total of 157, Chillicothe tallied 175 and Grandview had 177.

The Tiger junior varsity also turned in a 177-197 win over Grandview at PCC.

Circleville scores were: Dave Wylie, 41; Scott Sanders, 44; Eric Berger, 46; Jeff Meena, 46; and Tom Hill, 51.

The Circleville varsity, 19-3, will be at Grove City today while the junior varsity will host Grove City juniors at Pickaway Country Club.

CHS Harriers Win Tri Meet

Circleville captured nine out of the first 10 places to down Southeastern and Huntington in a tri cross country meet Tuesday at Ross Southeastern.

The Tigers tallied 15 points, Southeastern had 54 and Huntington tallied 76.

Dave Uland took first place with a time of 10:13. Other Tigers picking up points were: Rusty Holbrook, 2nd, 10:15; Doug Baker, 3rd, 10:25; Tom Taylor, 4th; 10:30; Dave Holbrook, 5th, 10:41; Randy Speakman, 6th, 10:43; Tim Milstead, 8th, 10:49; Greg Lundberg, 9th, 10:50; Joel Baker, 10th, 10:53; Richard Boulden, 16th.

Circleville is now 6-2 and will host Logan 4:30 p.m. Thursday.

Howsam Protests Parking Fee Boost

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati Reds President Bob Howsam protested a city measure that would raise parking prices at Riverfront Stadium during the World Series calling it a "rip-off."

Howsam, in a letter to Cincinnati Public Utilities Director Joseph Rochford, said the Reds wanted to "express strong opposition to this increase. We feel that such an increase at this time is almost gouging the public, or as is more commonly said today, a rip-off of the fans who regularly support the team and in essence the stadium, including the parking garage.

"With just three dates involved, the amount of revenue to be gained is not signficant."

Frank Tanana of the California Angels set an American League record for southpaws when he struck out 17 Texas Rangers on June 21. He's only 22 years old.

LE Spikers Split With Pickerington

Logan Elm girls varsity volleyball team dropped a decision to visiting Pickerington Tuesday while the Braves reserve squad topped a previously undefeated Pickerington team.

The Braves varsity went down to defeat to a strong, aggressive Tiger squad, 15-6 and 15-4.

But, the Logan Elm reserves came on to take the Tigers in two straight, 15-11 and 16-14. Diane Weaver had 17 serving points in the match.

"It was a good overall team effort on the part of our girls," Logan Elm coach Kathi Thompson stated. "It was a hard fought match with good setups, spikes and blocks on the part of both teams."

LE Golfers Top Berne Union

Logan Elm's golf team finished regular season play with a 192-218 decision over Berne Union on the Rockets' course.

This gives the Braves a 4-3 season mark who stand third in the Mid-State League.

They will compete in the Mid-State tournament noon Tuesday at Black Lick Course in Columbus.

Meet The Vikings

Bill Dowell (34), Duane Keller (10) and Mike Fisher (22) are sophomore members of the Teays Valley Vikings football team. Bill is the son of Mrs. E. Dowell, Route 2, Ashville. Duane is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marv Keller, 73 East St., Ashville. Mike is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fisher, Lockbourne.

County Gridders Face Big Games

It will be crucial league action for all three county schools Friday night when Westfall travels to Zane Trace in a Scioto Valley Conference tilt, Logan Elm hosts Canal Winchester in the big one in the Mid-State and Teays Valley is home with Marysville in a Metropolitan League clash.

Coach John Glanton and his 5-0 Mustangs will tangle with the Pioneers who are 1-3.

Zane Trace will throw the ball as their chief offensive weapon with quarterback Don Clever doing the damage.

The Mustangs will counter with their running game paced by All-SVC player of the year John Long. For the first time in a long while the Mustangs are healthy which could be a bad omen for Zane Trace.

The starting offense for Westfall will be: Roger Johnson, center; Tim Lett at one guard and John Graffis and Carl Strittmatter alternating at the other; Randy Hildenbrand and Mike Weidinger, tackles; Eric Schleich and John Roberts, ends; Rick Stillings, quarterback; John Long, tailback; Eddie Myers, fullback, Bill Evans, wingback; when Tony Simon comes in at tailback, Long will move into the fullback slot.

On defense it will be: Tim Lett, middle guard; Randy Hildenbrand and Terry Williams, tackles; Weidinger and Dave Rowland, ends; Eric Schleich and Long, linebackers; Randy Adams, monster man; Bill Evans, halfback; Darren Metzger, safety; Eddie Myers, short side halfback.

Logan Elm, 3-2, will unleash their new offense as coach Perry Griffith and his Braves tangle with the No. 2 state ranked Indians who are 5-0 for the season.

Both teams are basically running teams and have been picking up 300 yards plus per game. Canal Winchester will have a size advantage but overall team speed will be about equal.

Griffith and Crist are the chief ground gainers for the Indians while Jeff Reichelderfer has really been eating up the turf for Logan Elm.

Logan Elm starters will be: Bruce DeBruin, center; Bruce Landis and Seth Dreisbach, guards; Mark Kennedy and Dave Dean, tackles; Jerry Scanlan and Rock Huggins, ends; Bob Sargent, quarterback; Steve Rawlins, fullback; Jeff Reichelderfer, halfback; Wayne Linthicum, wingback.

Defensively, it will be: Landis and Kennedy, guards; Dean and Pat Williams, tackles; Rawlins and Huggins, ends; Reichelderfer and Scanlan, linebackers; Scott Allen, safety; Jeff Hamler and Dave Calton, cornerbacks.

Coach Dick Kidwell and his Teays Valley gridders, 1-4, will be out to get back on the winning trail against a strong Marysville team, 3-1-1.

Marysville has a veteran team with 25 returning lettermen and 12 starters to operate a balanced attack with Dan Fanin and Jim Woodson being the primary rushers.

The Vikings offensive unit will be: Jim Baxter, center; Mike Siriano and Lance Roese, guards; Mike DeFice and Scott Rader, tackles; Joe Berger and Brad Sherman, ends; Greg Cline, quarterback; Lloyd Windon, wingback; Craig Ramey, fullback; Ron Foreman, halfback.

When the Blue and Gold move to defense, it will be: Roger Struckman, middle guard; Bill Toole and John Vasco, tackles; Mike Wilson and Jim Baxter, ends; Jim Henderly and Jim Orr, linebackers; Lance Roese, monster man; Lance Windon, halfback; Duane Keller, safety; Brad Stuthard, cornerback.

Bosox Top A's In AL

OAKLAND (AP) — Boston's Red Sox, inspired by the play of 36-year-old Carl Yastrzemski, fly the American League pennant today after destroying the Oakland dream of four straight titles.

"It's a very strange feeling," admitted the A's volatile owner Charles O. Finley. "But you can't win them all."

Boston, with a 5-3 victory Tuesday night, swept the best-of-five playoffs in three straight and now return home to open the World Series Saturday against the National League's Cincinnati Reds.

"We've won during the season on defense, and that defense won it for us in this series," declared Yastrzemski whose fielding gem in the eighth inning was the turning point of the final game.

Yaz made a diving stop of a drive by Reggie Jackson and held him to a single instead of a double or a triple. One run did score on the play but Sal Bando was stopped at third and the next batter, Joe Rudi, hit into an inning-ending double play.

Sharing the credit was relief pitcher Dick Drago, who threw a fast sinker that Rudi hit on the ground.

In the three games, Boston outhit the A's 31-19 and five of the Oakland starters, Campy Campaneris, Billy North, Billy Williams, Gene Tenace and Phil Garner, didn't get a hit all series.

"They just outplayed us," admitted losing Manager Alvin Dark who piloted the A's to the World Series crown in 1974 after Dick Williams left the helm after winning in 1972 and 1973.

Southpaw pitcher Ken Holtzman tried to go on two days rest after his own defense let him down in the first game that was lost by a 7-1 count.

"It just wasn't there," he said. "I was stiff."

Boston scored an unearned run in the fourth inning to break the scoreless duel between Holtzman and winning pitcher Rick Wise.

The Red Sox added three more in the fifth on hits by Rick Burleson, Denny Doyle, Yastrzemski and Carlton Fisk plus a wild pitch. Cecil Cooper drove in the finale in the eighth.

Cesar Tovar walked as a pinch hitter in the sixth for Oakland and eventually scored on a ground out after Claudell Washington singled him to third. Two more runs scored in the eighth before Yaz and reliever Drago chopped off the rally.

For the series Yaz collected five hits, including a home run. During the season he had played primarily at first base, returning to his old familiar left field when Jim Rice was hurt.

No one was saying much about the coming series against Cincinnati, but Manager Darrell Johnson admitted he probably would start ace righthander Luis Tiant in Saturday's opening game at Fenway Park.

Also, shortstop Burleson said the fact that the opening two games of the just-concluded playoffs were at Fenway had been a big aid.

"I hope it will be the same in the World Series," Burleson said of the venerable stadium with its short left field wall.

Reds Grab Crown

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds left here with the National League title, a yearning for their first World Series victory since 1940, and a mighty compliment from Al Oliver of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"They'll go all the way. They definitely have the best team I've seen since I've been in major league baseball," said Oliver, whose eighth season ended Tuesday night when the Reds beat Pittsburgh 5-3 in 10 innings in the National League playoffs.

The Reds swept the series in three games even though Pirate rookie John Candelaria pitched superbly Tuesday night, matching a playoff record with 14 strikeouts.

"This is the happiest day of my life," said Reds' Manager Sparky Anderson, whose club opens the World Series Saturday in Boston against the American League-winning Red Sox.

The Reds dealt Pittsburgh its final defeat about a half hour after the Red Sox swept Oakland in the AL playoff.

"I'm ready to play in Fenway Park," said Cincinnati's Pete Rose, who provided the key spark in the title-clincher.

It was Rose who belted a two-run homer that helped chase Candelaria in the eighth and gave Cincinnati a 3-2 lead. Then after the Pirates pulled to a 3-3 tie with a run in their frantic ninth, Rose helped the Reds deliver their two-run-knockout punch in the 10th.

"I never thought it would end in three," insisted Anderson. "I always thought it would go five games, just like I said at the start."

For a while, it looked like the 21-year-old Candelaria would give the Pirates the reprieve they needed after two convincing losses in Cincinnati.

"Candelaria was revved up and ready to go," said Joe Morgan of the Reds.

"It was probably the greatest performance by a lefty against us all year," said Rose.

Candelaria started with a flourish, striking out the first four batters he faced.

Dave Concepcion stroked a solo homer over the left field wall in the second, but that was the lone hit allowed by Candelaria over the first seven innings.

Al Oliver belted a two-run homer for the Pirates in the sixth to give Pittsburgh a 2-1 lead off Cincinnati starter Gary Nolan.

"It felt great when Ollie hit that home run," Candelaria said after the game, maintaining his usual relaxed demeanor.

"But the feeling didn't last long," Candelaria added with a slight smile.

Candelaria's undoing began in the eighth—after he struck out Ken Griffey and Cesar Geronimo to raise his total to 14. That matched the previous playoff record set by Joe Coleman of Detroit against Oakland in 1972.

But Candelaria then walked pinch-hitter Merv Rettenmund on four pitches, and Rose followed with his two-run homer that landed near a Pirate "Babushka Power" banner in the leftfield seats.

"That's why Pete Rose is the great ballplayer he is," said Pirate Manager Danny Murtaugh.

The Pirates loaded the bases in their ninth on singles by Willie Stargell and Richie Zisk and a walk to Bob Robertson.

Reliever Will McEnaney then yielded another walk to pinchhitter Duffy Dyer to force in the tying run, but Rennie Stennett flied out to center to end the inning.

The Reds put the game away with a 10th-inning push that began when Griffey beat out a two-strike bunt.

"We knew he might bunt with two strikes, but he just did a perfect job with it," said Murtaugh.

Griffey took second on a balk by Pirate reliever Ramon Hernandez, moved to third on an infield out and scored the winning run on a sacrifice fly by Ed Armbrister.

Rose followed with a single to right and scored the final Cincinnati run on a double by Morgan.

"Pete Rose is Pete Rose," said Sparky Anderson. "When the game loses him, I just don't think we'll see another one.

"Rose is something completely different. God never gifted him, but he is going to be a Hall of Famer on the first ballot."

Cincinnati reliever Pedro Borbon retired Richie Hebner, Oliver and Willie Stargell in the 10th to give the Reds their third league title in six years.

"It's a shame this has to come to a stop," said Stargell, "but we look forward to meeting them again, and we wish them the best in the Series."

Howsam Protests Parking Fee Boost

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati Reds President Bob Howsam protested a city measure that would raise parking prices at Riverfront Stadium during the World Series calling it a "rip-off."

Howsam, in a letter to Cincinnati Public Utilities Director Joseph Rochford, said the Reds wanted to "express strong opposition to this increase. We feel that such an increase at this time is almost gouging the public, or as is more commonly said today, a rip-off of the fans who regularly support the team and in essence the stadium, including the parking garage.

"With just three dates involved, the amount of revenue to be gained is not signficant."

Frank Tanana of the California Angels set an American League record for southpaws when he struck out 17 Texas Rangers on June 21. He's only 22 years old.

LE Spikers Split With Pickerington

Logan Elm girls varsity volleyball team dropped a decision to visiting Pickerington Tuesday while the Braves reserve squad topped a previously undefeated Pickerington team.

The Braves varsity went down to defeat to a strong, aggressive Tiger squad, 15-6 and 15-4.

But, the Logan Elm reserves came on to take the Tigers in two straight, 15-11 and 16-14. Diane Weaver had 17 serving points in the match.

Grid Picker Sees Oklahoma Win

NEW YORK (AP) — The Texas-Oklahoma game is so important that Darrell Royal, your basic Country & Western fan, probably doesn't even have time to listen to any good guitar pickin' this week.

This corner certainly has nothing against guitar-pickin', even indulging in a few lost chords from time to time, as Darrell can testify, but this week we, too, will stick to pickin' scores.

And there's no better place to start than with the annual Red River brouhaha in Dallas between second-ranked Oklahoma and No. 5 Texas, highlight of a tasty schedule which also features three other match-ups between ranked teams — Michigan at Michigan State, West Virginia at Penn State and Oklahoma State at Missouri.

Royal won 12 of the first 14 battles against his alma mater but a revolting development has taken place the last four years with Oklahoma winning 48-27, 27-0, 52-13 and 16-13.

Oklahoma's Barry Switzer has never lost to Texas — or anyone else, for that matter — as a head coach, and he won't this week . . . Oklahoma 28-21.

Last week's count showed 53 right and 15 wrong for a percentage of .779. For the season, it's 188-82-7—.696.

Michigan at Michigan State: It's the fifth year in a row the Spartans have played Notre Dame and Michigan back-to-back. The first four times they lost to both. This year they beat Notre Dame, but they'll still lose to ... Michigan 17-10.

West Virginia at Penn State: The last 19 years, except for a 14-14 tie in 1958, have belonged to Penn State and only three times has the Nittany Lions' margin of victory been under 10 points. They say all good things must come to an end ... or must they? Penn State 24-14.

Oklahoma State at Missouri: Cowboys hit the road for the first time. The road hits back ... Missouri 24-17.

Ohio State at Iowa: "The players might tend to take this one lightly, but I won't let them," says Woody Hayes, whose Buckeyes are No. 1 ... Ohio State 42-7.

Washington State at Southern California: It's easy to get to the L.A. Colliseum but it ain't easy to win there ... Southern Cal 28-14.

Kansas at Nebraska: You think Kansas doesn't remember last year's 56-0 shellacking? You think Kansas won't get beat again? Nebraska 21-7.

Texas A&M at Texas Tech: Considered this for Upset Special ... very briefly. Texas A&M 27-10.

Washington at Alabama: Might be closer than you think. Then again, it might not ... Alabama 35-7.

Colorado at Miami, Fla.: Upset Special of the Week ... Miami 20-17.

Notre Dame at North Carolina: There isn't any good time to play the Irish, particularly after they lose a toughie ... Notre Dame 30-6.

Vanderbilt at Florida: The Gators haven't forgotten last year ... Florida 24-6.

Louisiana State at Tennessee: LSU won last year 20-10. This year ... Tennessee 20-10.

Grambling Remains Atop College Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Grambling, with an impressive 19-12 victory over Oregon State last weekend, remains atop The Associated college division poll, but there was a wholesale reshuffling in other rankings.

Grambling, 4-0-0, received 31 first-place votes and 434 points, widening the Tigers' lead over Western Kentucky, 5-0-0, whose Hilltoppers drew seven firstplace votes and 317 points in balloting of the nation's sports writers and broadcasters. Western Kentucky beat East Tennessee State 17-0 last weekend.

The poll took on a new look with Texas A&I's move from fourth to third with two firstplace votes and 292 points based on its 49-0 victory over Stephen F. Austin.

Meanwhile, Boise State fell from third to fourth with 253 points after its narrow 35-34 victory over Montana State.

Idaho State, on the strength of its 17-7 victory over Northern Arizona Saturday, moved from sixth to fifth with 207 points. And Northern Michigan, eighth last week, jumped to sixth, receiving three top selections and 182 points after a 15-0 blanking of Youngstown St.

Eastern Kentucky was still at No. 7 with 138 points, followed by North Dakota, up from ninth place last week with 88.

Delaware advanced from 10th place to the No. 9 slot with 79 points, and Montana vaulted from 13th to 10th place with two first-place votes and 76 points.

Rounding out the top 15 were Wittenberg, 68 points; Henderson State, 55; Jackson State, 46; newcomer Western Illinois, 29, and Ithaca, 27.

Superdome Best, Paul Brown Says

CINCINNATI (AP)—Veteran Cincinnati Bengals Coach Paul Brown said there is no question that the New Orleans Superdome is superior to Houston's Astrodome from his point of view.

Brown, whose team has beaten the New Orleans Saints and the Houston Oilers in successive weeks, said "the Houston dome is run down, the playing surface is undulating," said Brown, whose Bengals are undefeated in three outings and hold down first place in the Central Division of the American Football Conference of the NFL.

Brown said that Houston "has Astroturf set down right on top of dirt rather than other surfaces used in other stadiums.

"They run rodeos, horse shows and you name it in there and the dirt gets pushed around underneath and they're not too careful about replacing it.

"Nobody enjoys playing down there anymore," Brown said.

Brown said quarterback Ken Anderson's first interception last Sunday in Houston "took the pressure off.

"We have been trying to avoid it," Brown said. "But, occasionally you have a mishap that gives you the confidence to know it can happen."

Brown said the narrow 21-18 victory over Houston without the services of tight end Bob Trumpy and safety Tommy Casanova was "a sign of maturity of our team.

"You know, everytime we have a situation like this I think about an old doctor I had up at Massillon, Ohio.

"I went to him once when I had a virus so I could coach a game and he said, 'we are all useful but everybody's not necessary.'

"I still think of that from time to time."

Cincinnati returned to practice Tuesday in preparation for a home game Sunday with the New England Patriots who are winless in three outings.

J.C. Snead Scores Win In Golf Tilt

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Before he can even think about playing the likes of Jack Nicklaus or Tom Weiskopf, J.C. Snead says his putting touch must improve in the $117,500 International All-Star golf matches.

Snead scored an impressive 6 and 5 opening victory Tuesday over fellow American George Burns. But he wasn't satisified.

"I'm going to have to make some putts if I'm going to beat anybody else. And I'm unhappy I didn't hit the ball very far today," said the nephew of the famed Sam Snead.

The younger Snead took advantage of Burns' jittery start to go 2-up after three holes. He played the 13 holes in 12 pars and a solitary bogey over the par-72, 7,000-yard Muirfield Village layout.

"I don't make many birds. That's the trouble with me," said Snead, who faced Australian Bob Stanton in the second round today.

Stanton ousted young American Mark Hayes 3 and 2 in the first round.

Other second round matches today paired Tsutomu Irie of Japan against John O'Leary of Ireland, Jerry Heard against fellow American Eddie Pearce and newlywed Tom Kite of the United States against American Forrest Fezler.

Bob Young Named Top MAC Player

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Bob Young, unrecruited as a high school football performer, has developed so rapidly in college that he's the Mid-American Conference Defensive Player of the Week.

"Young was simply overlooked as a high school player. He had the goods and came out and made it," candidly admitted his coach, Miami of Ohio's Dick Crum.

The 6-foot, 183-pound sophomore from Fairborn, Ohio, earned the MAC laurels for delivering a two-interception, twofumble recovery, 10-tackle performance in a 14-3 victory at Purdue Saturday.

All Tickets Sold For Reds Contests

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds announced that all World Series tickets have been sold and are in the mail for the games scheduled at Riverfront Stadium Oct. 14, 15 and 16.

The Reds also said that approximately 7,000 checks have been returned for orders that could not be filled. Ticket director Dale Stoeber said he regretted "we could not accommodate all our great fans but we received many more requests than we had tickets."

Jimbo Elrod Named Tops On Defense

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Somehow the nickname "Tarzan" seems to fit Jimbo Elrod, the wild man of the Oklahoma defense.

The muscular defensive end came to Oklahoma on a wrestling scholarship and admits to liking "man-to-man combat."

In just four games this season, he's shelled enemy offensives with a team-leading 45 tackles, including 10 for losses of 55 yards, recovered three fumbles and broken up a pass.

Elrod was really on a rampage last Saturday as the second-ranked Sooners squeaked by Colorado 21-20. He was in on 19 tackles, 12 unassisted, and threw Buff runners twice for losses of 11 yards.

For his performance, the 220-pound senior has been selected The Associated Press' national college Lineman of the Week.

"It's a super feeling," Elrod said of the honor. "It's something you dream about when you start playing college ball."

Elrod is the third member of what Texas Coach Darrell Royal calls Oklahoma's "1-2-3 kick" defense. The others are tackle Leroy Selmon, 6-foot-2, 260, and his brother, nose-guard Dewey Selmon, 6-0, 255. They are largely responsible for Oklahoma being undefeated in 33 games.

Penguins Turn Back Washington Capitals

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) — Gord Laxton was nervous when he found out he would start and a bit wobbly after his National Hockey League debut, but in between the rookie goalie performed like a seasoned veteran.

The 20-year-old Pittsburgh goalie turned aside 26 shots, including several close-in attacks under extreme pressure, leading the Penguins to a 4-2 victory over the Washington Capitals Tuesday night to launch the NHL's 59th season.

Royal won 12 of the first 14 battles against his alma mater but a revolting development has taken place the last four years with Oklahoma winning 48-27, 27-0, 52-13 and 16-13.

Oklahoma's Barry Switzer has never lost to Texas — or anyone else, for that matter — as a head coach, and he won't this week . . . Oklahoma 28-21.

Last week's count showed 53 right and 15 wrong for a percentage of .779. For the season, it's 188-82-7—.696.

Michigan at Michigan State: It's the fifth year in a row the Spartans have played Notre Dame and Michigan back-to-back. The first four times they lost to both. This year they beat Notre Dame, but they'll still lose to ... Michigan 17-10.

West Virginia at Penn State: The last 19 years, except for a 14-14 tie in 1958, have belonged to Penn State and only three times has the Nittany Lions' margin of victory been under 10 points. They say all good things must come to an end ... or must they? Penn State 24-14.

Oklahoma State at Missouri: Cowboys hit the road for the first time. The road hits back ... Missouri 24-17.

Ohio State at Iowa: "The players might tend to take this one lightly, but I won't let them," says Woody Hayes, whose Buckeyes are No. 1 ... Ohio State 42-7.

Washington State at Southern California: It's easy to get to the L.A. Colliseum but it ain't easy to win there ... Southern Cal 28-14.

Kansas at Nebraska: You think Kansas doesn't remember last year's 56-0 shellacking? You think Kansas won't get beat again? Nebraska 21-7.

Texas A&M at Texas Tech: Considered this for Upset Special ... very briefly. Texas A&M 27-10.

Washington at Alabama: Might be closer than you think. Then again, it might not ... Alabama 35-7.

Colorado at Miami, Fla.: Upset Special of the Week ... Miami 20-17.

Notre Dame at North Carolina: There isn't any good time to play the Irish, particularly after they lose a toughie ... Notre Dame 30-6.

Vanderbilt at Florida: The Gators haven't forgotten last year ... Florida 24-6.

Louisiana State at Tennessee: LSU won last year 20-10. This year ... Tennessee 20-10.

Grambling Remains Atop College Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Grambling, with an impressive 19-12 victory over Oregon State last weekend, remains atop The Associated college division poll, but there was a wholesale reshuffling in other rankings.

Grambling, 4-0-0, received 31 first-place votes and 434 points, widening the Tigers' lead over Western Kentucky, 5-0-0, whose Hilltoppers drew seven firstplace votes and 317 points in balloting of the nation's sports writers and broadcasters. Western Kentucky beat East Tennessee State 17-0 last weekend.

The poll took on a new look with Texas A&I's move from fourth to third with two firstplace votes and 292 points based on its 49-0 victory over Stephen F. Austin.

Meanwhile, Boise State fell from third to fourth with 253 points after its narrow 35-34 victory over Montana State.

Idaho State, on the strength of its 17-7 victory over Northern Arizona Saturday, moved from sixth to fifth with 207 points. And Northern Michigan, eighth last week, jumped to sixth, receiving three top selections and 182 points after a 15-0 blanking of Youngstown St.

Eastern Kentucky was still at No. 7 with 138 points, followed by North Dakota, up from ninth place last week with 88.

Delaware advanced from 10th place to the No. 9 slot with 79 points, and Montana vaulted from 13th to 10th place with two first-place votes and 76 points.

Rounding out the top 15 were Wittenberg, 68 points; Henderson State, 55; Jackson State, 46; newcomer Western Illinois, 29, and Ithaca, 27.

Superdome Best, Paul Brown Says

CINCINNATI (AP)—Veteran Cincinnati Bengals Coach Paul Brown said there is no question that the New Orleans Superdome is superior to Houston's Astrodome from his point of view.

Brown, whose team has beaten the New Orleans Saints and the Houston Oilers in successive weeks, said "the Houston dome is run down, the playing surface is undulating," said Brown, whose Bengals are undefeated in three outings and hold down first place in the Central Division of the American Football Conference of the NFL.

Brown said that Houston "has Astroturf set down right on top of dirt rather than other surfaces used in other stadiums.

"They run rodeos, horse shows and you name it in there and the dirt gets pushed around underneath and they're not too careful about replacing it.

"Nobody enjoys playing down there anymore," Brown said.

Brown said quarterback Ken Anderson's first interception last Sunday in Houston "took the pressure off.

"We have been trying to avoid it," Brown said. "But, occasionally you have a mishap that gives you the confidence to know it can happen."

Brown said the narrow 21-18 victory over Houston without the services of tight end Bob Trumpy and safety Tommy Casanova was "a sign of maturity of our team.

"You know, everytime we have a situation like this I think about an old doctor I had up at Massillon, Ohio.

"I went to him once when I had a virus so I could coach a game and he said, 'we are all useful but everybody's not necessary.'

"I still think of that from time to time."

Cincinnati returned to practice Tuesday in preparation for a home game Sunday with the New England Patriots who are winless in three outings.

J.C. Snead Scores Win In Golf Tilt

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Before he can even think about playing the likes of Jack Nicklaus or Tom Weiskopf, J.C. Snead says his putting touch must improve in the $117,500 International All-Star golf matches.

Snead scored an impressive 6 and 5 opening victory Tuesday over fellow American George Burns. But he wasn't satisified.

"I'm going to have to make some putts if I'm going to beat anybody else. And I'm unhappy I didn't hit the ball very far today," said the nephew of the famed Sam Snead.

The younger Snead took advantage of Burns' jittery start to go 2-up after three holes. He played the 13 holes in 12 pars and a solitary bogey over the par-72, 7,000-yard Muirfield Village layout.

"I don't make many birds. That's the trouble with me," said Snead, who faced Australian Bob Stanton in the second round today.

Stanton ousted young American Mark Hayes 3 and 2 in the first round.

Other second round matches today paired Tsutomu Irie of Japan against John O'Leary of Ireland, Jerry Heard against fellow American Eddie Pearce and newlywed Tom Kite of the United States against American Forrest Fezler.

Bob Young Named Top MAC Player

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Bob Young, unrecruited as a high school football performer, has developed so rapidly in college that he's the Mid-American Conference Defensive Player of the Week.

"Young was simply overlooked as a high school player. He had the goods and came out and made it," candidly admitted his coach, Miami of Ohio's Dick Crum.

The 6-foot, 183-pound sophomore from Fairborn, Ohio, earned the MAC laurels for delivering a two-interception, twofumble recovery, 10-tackle performance in a 14-3 victory at Purdue Saturday.

All Tickets Sold For Reds Contests

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds announced that all World Series tickets have been sold and are in the mail for the games scheduled at Riverfront Stadium Oct. 14, 15 and 16.

The Reds also said that approximately 7,000 checks have been returned for orders that could not be filled. Ticket director Dale Stoeber said he regretted "we could not accommodate all our great fans but we received many more requests than we had tickets."

Jimbo Elrod Named Tops On Defense

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Somehow the nickname "Tarzan" seems to fit Jimbo Elrod, the wild man of the Oklahoma defense.

The muscular defensive end came to Oklahoma on a wrestling scholarship and admits to liking "man-to-man combat."

In just four games this season, he's shelled enemy offensives with a team-leading 45 tackles, including 10 for losses of 55 yards, recovered three fumbles and broken up a pass.

Elrod was really on a rampage last Saturday as the second-ranked Sooners squeaked by Colorado 21-20. He was in on 19 tackles, 12 unassisted, and threw Buff runners twice for losses of 11 yards.

For his performance, the 220-pound senior has been selected The Associated Press' national college Lineman of the Week.

"It's a super feeling," Elrod said of the honor. "It's something you dream about when you start playing college ball."

Elrod is the third member of what Texas Coach Darrell Royal calls Oklahoma's "1-2-3 kick" defense. The others are tackle Leroy Selmon, 6-foot-2, 260, and his brother, nose-guard Dewey Selmon, 6-0, 255. They are largely responsible for Oklahoma being undefeated in 33 games.

Penguins Turn Back Washington Capitals

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) — Gord Laxton was nervous when he found out he would start and a bit wobbly after his National Hockey League debut, but in between the rookie goalie performed like a seasoned veteran.

The 20-year-old Pittsburgh goalie turned aside 26 shots, including several close-in attacks under extreme pressure, leading the Penguins to a 4-2 victory over the Washington Capitals Tuesday night to launch the NHL's 59th season.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — After a month of the new television season, it appears that viewers checking out the new series are solidly hooked on CBS' "Phyllis," ABC's "Starsky and Hutch" and NBC's "Joe Forrester."

They initially liked CBS' "Switch" and ABC's "When Things Were Rotten," but may be losing interest now. On the other hand, they weren't very high on ABC's "Welcome Back, Kotter" when the season began, but last week "Kotter" seemed very much in favor with viewers.

So goes the tube-watching patterns unfolding in the weekly audience samples of A.C. Nielsen Co., patterns which show at least nine new series in dire ratings straits since "premiere week" of last month.

NBC already has axed two of those series — "The Montefuscos" and "Fay," which were getting battered by CBS' "The Waltons" and ABC's "Barney Miller" and "On the Rocks" in the Thursday night Nielsens.

And further cuts may be afoot as NBC, which twice this season has wound up No. 3 in the weekly rating averages for evening programs, tries to recapture the No. 2 position it has held in past seasons.

Although a spokesman declined to comment on a trade report that NBC's new "Family Holvak" and "Invisible Man" series are being dropped, he did say the network will announce program changes later this week. He declined to go into specifics.

At ABC, which is enjoying its best season in years, a spokesman said no changes would be announced for at least three weeks.

Such certainty was not apparent at CBS, which last week recaptured its longtime firstplace standing in the weekly ratings average after an unprecedented three-network tie the previous week.

A spokesman said, "We anticipate nothing today," adding that he didn't know if any changes would be announced soon.

Another uncertain note was sounded by CBS on Monday, which last week said its low-rated "Beacon Hill" and "Kate McShane" series would exchange time periods on Oct. 21 and 22 in hope of improving ratings.

Now, it says the change won't be made because "Beacon Hill" last week posted a slight rise in ratings and the network is encouraged.

Howard Cosell's well-publicized Saturday night variety show has suffered a similar fate in its three weeks on the air, averaging a 23 per cent share of audience since its premiere on ABC.

Other new shows which have had consistently weak ratings since the start of the season are "Three for the Road" and "Big Eddie" on CBS and ABC's "Barbary Coast" and "Mobile One."

On the brighter side, last week's 20 most popular shows, according to Nielsen estimates, were "All in the Family," "Maude" and "Phyllis" (CBS); "Sanford and Son" (NBC); "Six Million Dollar Man" and "Streets of San Francisco" (ABC); "Rhoda," "Kojack," "The Waltons" and "Medical Center" (CBS; "Little House on the Prairie" (NBC); "Mary Tyler Moore" and "Good Times" (CBS); "Chico and the Man" (NBC); "Carol Burnett" (CBS); "Police Woman" (NBC); "Bob Newhart" and "Cannon" (CBS); and "Welcome Back, Kotter" (ABC).

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR THURSDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): A day of great inspiration! Your innate perspicacity and knack for pleasing, applied in the right areas, could bring many unexpected benefits.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Do not be misled by surface appearances. Look deep for true values. A good day in which to capitalize on your innate artistic abilities.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Many skirmishes can be lost, but the final battle gloriously won. You may face trials and opposition now, but work toward that wonderful conclusion!

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): You can run an efficient, flexible program if you remain your innately logical self, and keep your mind free of irrelevancies. Unusual ideas and methods favored.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Some interference with your plans indicated, but take it in stride. What you do with your own talents is what counts. Use THEM well, then note where other puzzle pieces fit.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Increasing advantages indicated, but some may be hidden, so you will have to ferret them out for yourself. A good day for research and expansion.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Don't try to cover too much territory at once — a tendency now — but, with well-planned procedure, aim for top goals. Going off on tangents will only slow up your progress.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Mars influences indicate an excellent day, with more than one means of accomplishment. Capitalize on your abilities, but remain tactful, cognizant of the sensitivity of others.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Fine aspects give a lift to your personality, help you to spur activities to a lively pace. It's a day for achievement. Just one admonition: Be careful in whom you confide.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): You may be surprised at how little opposition you will face in quarters where it was expected. Use this advantage to achieve in some special way that will strengthen your hand.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Splendid planetary influences. Especially favored: creativity, originality, any activity which involves dealing with the public.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): A period for some introspection. Through reflection, you will get a clearer view of the road ahead, to make plans for further accomplishment and happiness.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with terrific enthusiasm, effectual power, fine mental processes, foresight and, in certain situations, that "sixth sense" which tells you when to move and when to stay put. The extremely versatile Lbran is usually successful beyond his own dreams. A lover of music and acting, he could succeed at either. With the poise and balance bestowed upon him by his symbol, the scales, he would make an outstanding lawyer, judge or statesman. His inventiveness can take him far in engineering, architecture or designing. Traits to curb: bossiness and a tendency toward carelessness when uninterested in a project. Birthdate of: Miguel de Cervantes, Spanish writer; Leonard Wood, former Gov.-Gen'l. of the Philippines.

Longest field goal in modern NCAA history was 63 yards, kicked last season by Joe Duren of Arkansas State. Later in the same game, his 56-yarder beat McNeese Sate.

When North Carolina's Tar Heels opened football practice before September, 29 freshman scholarship players turned out.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — After a month of the new television season, it appears that viewers checking out the new series are solidly hooked on CBS' "Phyllis," ABC's "Starsky and Hutch" and NBC's "Joe Forrester."

They initially liked CBS' "Switch" and ABC's "When Things Were Rotten," but may be losing interest now. On the other hand, they weren't very high on ABC's "Welcome Back, Kotter" when the season began, but last week "Kotter" seemed very much in favor with viewers.

So goes the tube-watching patterns unfolding in the weekly audience samples of A.C. Nielsen Co., patterns which show at least nine new series in dire ratings straits since "premiere week" of last month.

NBC already has axed two of those series — "The Montefuscos" and "Fay," which were getting battered by CBS' "The Waltons" and ABC's "Barney Miller" and "On the Rocks" in the Thursday night Nielsens.

And further cuts may be afoot as NBC, which twice this season has wound up No. 3 in the weekly rating averages for evening programs, tries to recapture the No. 2 position it has held in past seasons.

Although a spokesman declined to comment on a trade report that NBC's new "Family Holvak" and "Invisible Man" series are being dropped, he did say the network will announce program changes later this week. He declined to go into specifics.

At ABC, which is enjoying its best season in years, a spokesman said no changes would be announced for at least three weeks.

Such certainty was not apparent at CBS, which last week recaptured its longtime firstplace standing in the weekly ratings average after an unprecedented three-network tie the previous week.

A spokesman said, "We anticipate nothing today," adding that he didn't know if any changes would be announced soon.

Another uncertain note was sounded by CBS on Monday, which last week said its low-rated "Beacon Hill" and "Kate McShane" series would exchange time periods on Oct. 21 and 22 in hope of improving ratings.

Now, it says the change won't be made because "Beacon Hill" last week posted a slight rise in ratings and the network is encouraged.

Howard Cosell's well-publicized Saturday night variety show has suffered a similar fate in its three weeks on the air, averaging a 23 per cent share of audience since its premiere on ABC.

Other new shows which have had consistently weak ratings since the start of the season are "Three for the Road" and "Big Eddie" on CBS and ABC's "Barbary Coast" and "Mobile One."

On the brighter side, last week's 20 most popular shows, according to Nielsen estimates, were "All in the Family," "Maude" and "Phyllis" (CBS); "Sanford and Son" (NBC); "Six Million Dollar Man" and "Streets of San Francisco" (ABC); "Rhoda," "Kojack," "The Waltons" and "Medical Center" (CBS; "Little House on the Prairie" (NBC); "Mary Tyler Moore" and "Good Times" (CBS); "Chico and the Man" (NBC); "Carol Burnett" (CBS); "Police Woman" (NBC); "Bob Newhart" and "Cannon" (CBS); and "Welcome Back, Kotter" (ABC).

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR THURSDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): A day of great inspiration! Your innate perspicacity and knack for pleasing, applied in the right areas, could bring many unexpected benefits.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Do not be misled by surface appearances. Look deep for true values. A good day in which to capitalize on your innate artistic abilities.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Many skirmishes can be lost, but the final battle gloriously won. You may face trials and opposition now, but work toward that wonderful conclusion!

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): You can run an efficient, flexible program if you remain your innately logical self, and keep your mind free of irrelevancies. Unusual ideas and methods favored.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Some interference with your plans indicated, but take it in stride. What you do with your own talents is what counts. Use THEM well, then note where other puzzle pieces fit.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Increasing advantages indicated, but some may be hidden, so you will have to ferret them out for yourself. A good day for research and expansion.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Don't try to cover too much territory at once — a tendency now — but, with well-planned procedure, aim for top goals. Going off on tangents will only slow up your progress.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Mars influences indicate an excellent day, with more than one means of accomplishment. Capitalize on your abilities, but remain tactful, cognizant of the sensitivity of others.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Fine aspects give a lift to your personality, help you to spur activities to a lively pace. It's a day for achievement. Just one admonition: Be careful in whom you confide.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): You may be surprised at how little opposition you will face in quarters where it was expected. Use this advantage to achieve in some special way that will strengthen your hand.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Splendid planetary influences. Especially favored: creativity, originality, any activity which involves dealing with the public.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): A period for some introspection. Through reflection, you will get a clearer view of the road ahead, to make plans for further accomplishment and happiness.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with terrific enthusiasm, effectual power, fine mental processes, foresight and, in certain situations, that "sixth sense" which tells you when to move and when to stay put. The extremely versatile Lbran is usually successful beyond his own dreams. A lover of music and acting, he could succeed at either. With the poise and balance bestowed upon him by his symbol, the scales, he would make an outstanding lawyer, judge or statesman. His inventiveness can take him far in engineering, architecture or designing. Traits to curb: bossiness and a tendency toward carelessness when uninterested in a project. Birthdate of: Miguel de Cervantes, Spanish writer; Leonard Wood, former Gov.-Gen'l. of the Philippines.

Longest field goal in modern NCAA history was 63 yards, kicked last season by Joe Duren of Arkansas State. Later in the same game, his 56-yarder beat McNeese Sate.

When North Carolina's Tar Heels opened football practice before September, 29 freshman scholarship players turned out.

They are all second year students.

Guest Speaker Talks To Chamber Directors On Deer Creek Park

By SUE BOYER
Herald Staff Writer

Donald G. Olson from the Department of Natural Resources addressed the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors Tuesday concerning the Deer Creek Park development. He talked about people of Ohio turning to private recreation in areas where public facilities are not developed.

The speaker also discussed the state legislation which will upgrade the Deer Creek Park facility. A transportation bond issue would provide for the upkeep of access roads and thus relieve the county engineer of that burden.

Other proposals for the recreation areas of Pickaway County include a beach at A. W. Marion State Park and a lodge at Deer Creek.

Olson brought with him a map of the Deer Creek area and a blueprint of the proposed lodge. He also explained to the Chamber board the items included in the issue. It would include acquisition of land for an 18-hole golf course, adding a Class B campground and providing a marina facility.

He did explain that the completion of the lodge to be built in an oak grove on Tick Ridge, would be more than three years away. Money has been appropriated for the lodge.

Chamber president T. D. Van Camp welcomed Rosemary Linn, newest member of the board of directors. Mrs. Linn replaces Don Brandon on the board.

Van Camp also advised the board that Cavett Robert had been secured as guest speaker for the annual meeting.

The following people were presented to the Chamber membership for election to the board of directors: John Fanale, RCA; Walter Garner, The Savings Bank; Ward Skinner, Ward's Cardinal Market; Dr. Robert Smith, professional; Chaney Vance, Columbus Production Credit.

Board members elected in this balloting will begin three-year terms on the first of the year.

Under committee reports, Steve Stevenson talked about the issues coming before the state legislature. Stevenson represents the legislative committee.

Jo Ann Brink, chairman of the membership committee, reported Joe Julian of the North Court Barbers had become a new member.

Several preliminary sketches of the restoration plan for downtown Circleville were presented to the board for viewing.

A report on the recent meeting between the industry heads and the Industrial Committee was given by Richard Gerhardt. He noted the biggest problem facing both present industry and future industry is the energy pinch.

LE Band Participates In Competition

The 1975 Logan Elm Braves Marching Band participated in the Zanesville Bonanza of Bands Marching Competition Saturday evening.

Although the band did not place within the top four spots of the AA competition, the Braves did place sixth out of nine bands in the tough AA class.

The class proved to be the most competitive class of the evening with the three highest scoring bands of the entire competition coming out of this class.

In the overall competition the Braves Band scored very well and had the 12th highest score of the 22 competing bands including the open and class A bands.

The impressive LE contest show combines the elements of precision marching and musical playing. The show includes several different styles of marching with the use of slant drills, oblique marching, squad drill, block band drill and dance steps including the "double bump."

The show includes the sounds of "Day by Day", the Doobie Brothers "Long Train Running", "Bridge Over Troubled Waters," and a special Bicentennial Salute to "The Battle Hymn of the Republic".

The 1975 Logan Elm Braves Marching Band is a highly improved marching unit consisting of 75 playing members, 14 assorted display flags and color guard, and six majorettes.

The next competition for the Braves Band is scheduled October 18th at Westland High School in Columbus.

WHS Band Enters Athens Competition

The Westfall High School Mustang Marching Band will be among approximately 25 Ohio and West Virginia high school bands participating in the Athens Invitational Marching Band Festival to be held Saturday in Ohio University's Peden Stadium.

The bands will be judged on music and performance, competing in four classes based on school size and past band contest experience. Twenty trophies, 12 plaques and three cash awards will be presented to the winning bands, according to festival sponsors.

Community groups sponsoring the festival include the Athens Band Boosters, the Athens Kiwanis, the Downtown Kiwanis and the Chauncey-Dover Lions Club.

The Athens High School Marching Band, hosts of the festival, will not enter the competition but will perform during the flag raising ceremony and during vote tabulation at the end of the contest.

Reserved seat tickets may be purchased in advance from the local Band Boosters Clubs. Ample parking and refreshments will also be available.

LUMBERJACKS IN TRAINING—Hocking Technical College natural resources students have been in practice all week in preparation for the first of a series of lumberjack contests to be held as part of the Paul Bunyan Show this weekend at the College. As many as a dozen teams of five Hocking Tech students each are expected to compete in chainsaw, crosscut and chopping contests. There will also be Ohio State Lumberjack Championships, and Invitational Championships and FFA contests. On the two-man crosscut saw are John Mann of Youngstown, left, and Charles Johnston of Hemlock Grove. Steadying the log is Dan Sober of Pittsburgh while an unidentified student looks on. They are all second year students.

Guest Speaker Talks To Chamber Directors On Deer Creek Park

By SUE BOYER
Herald Staff Writer

Donald G. Olson from the Department of Natural Resources addressed the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors Tuesday concerning the Deer Creek Park development. He talked about people of Ohio turning to private recreation in areas where public facilities are not developed.

The speaker also discussed the state legislation which will upgrade the Deer Creek Park facility. A transportation bond issue would provide for the upkeep of access roads and thus relieve the county engineer of that burden.

Other proposals for the recreation areas of Pickaway County include a beach at A. W. Marion State Park and a lodge at Deer Creek.

Olson brought with him a map of the Deer Creek area and a blueprint of the proposed lodge. He also explained to the Chamber board the items included in the issue. It would include acquisition of land for an 18-hole golf course, adding a Class B campground and providing a marina facility.

He did explain that the completion of the lodge to be built in an oak grove on Tick Ridge, would be more than three years away. Money has been appropriated for the lodge.

Chamber president T. D. Van Camp welcomed Rosemary Linn, newest member of the board of directors. Mrs. Linn replaces Don Brandon on the board.

Van Camp also advised the board that Cavett Robert had been secured as guest speaker for the annual meeting.

The following people were presented to the Chamber membership for election to the board of directors: John Fanale, RCA; Walter Garner, The Savings Bank; Ward Skinner, Ward's Cardinal Market; Dr. Robert Smith, professional; Chaney Vance, Columbus Production Credit.

Board members elected in this balloting will begin three-year terms on the first of the year.

Under committee reports, Steve Stevenson talked about the issues coming before the state legislature. Stevenson represents the legislative committee.

Jo Ann Brink, chairman of the membership committee, reported Joe Julian of the North Court Barbers had become a new member.

Several preliminary sketches of the restoration plan for downtown Circleville were presented to the board for viewing.

A report on the recent meeting between the industry heads and the Industrial Committee was given by Richard Gerhardt. He noted the biggest problem facing both present industry and future industry is the energy pinch.

LE Band Participates In Competition

The 1975 Logan Elm Braves Marching Band participated in the Zanesville Bonanza of Bands Marching Competition Saturday evening.

Although the band did not place within the top four spots of the AA competition, the Braves did place sixth out of nine bands in the tough AA class.

The class proved to be the most competitive class of the evening with the three highest scoring bands of the entire competition coming out of this class.

In the overall competition the Braves Band scored very well and had the 12th highest score of the 22 competing bands including the open and class A bands.

The impressive LE contest show combines the elements of precision marching and musical playing. The show includes several different styles of marching with the use of slant drills, oblique marching, squad drill, block band drill and dance steps including the "double bump."

The show includes the sounds of "Day by Day", the Doobie Brothers "Long Train Running", "Bridge Over Troubled Waters," and a special Bicentennial Salute to "The Battle Hymn of the Republic".

The 1975 Logan Elm Braves Marching Band is a highly improved marching unit consisting of 75 playing members, 14 assorted display flags and color guard, and six majorettes.

The next competition for the Braves Band is scheduled October 18th at Westland High School in Columbus.
